TWO RADIO PLEAS

By GEORGE E. HOLMES
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, Nov. 4.—With fair weather reported in all parts of the country, American voters in numbers never before equalled are making their quadrennial march to the polls today.

Upon the verdict they render there depends the character of their national government for years, depends the local governments in 33 states, the complexion of congress—and perhaps may depend the course of world history.

At least 30,000,000 voters will have registered their preference before the polls close tonight. According to the estimates of all party managers, and they would not be surprised if the total reaches 35,000,000. Either figure will establish a new high record in popular suffrage, not only in the United States, but in the world.

The leaders of all parties found satisfaction in the fair weather reports from the country.

"The larger the vote the more decisive the victory," said William M. Butler, generalissimo of the Coolidge for co.

"Fair weather will bring out the great silent vote which can be depended upon to elect John W. Davis," said the Democratic managers.

And—"Fair weather will allow the farmer and the people in remote rural sections of the west to get to the polls, and that spells Progressive triumph," declared the La Follette independent leaders.

President Coolidge, John W. Davis and political lesser lights everywhere joined in a common appeal to the American citizen to vote.

"Vote anyway you please, but vote."

This was the burden of their plea. It was almost, but not quite, non-partisan.

In his closing message to the American electorate, conveyed by radio to millions of unseen listeners, President Coolidge made a veiled thrust at the La Follette independents by alluding to them as "an element of discontent, an element inspired with more zeal than knowledge."

Only a few moments before the President had listened to his chief rival, John W. Davis, speaking to this same invisible audience, appeal to "the moral sense of the American people, to rise up to the ballot boxes today and vote out of power an administration streaked with corruption."

"God defend the right," was the fervent and final plea that Davis left with the voters.

There were no last minute or eleventh hour revisions of the forecasts which all party managers have been making in such profusion for a week past.

Republican leaders said they saw no reason to change their prophecies of a majority in the electoral college for Coolidge running anywhere from 10 to 175 votes. The first figure represents their minimum expectations. The last constitutes all they possibly can expect, and would allow Davis nothing but the solid South that Cox carried, and allow La Follette virtually nothing.

Democratic leaders are more quietly conservative. It would be untrue to say that all of the Democratic managers are confident of victory, for some of them are not. With Coolidge sweeping the conservative east, and with La Follette setting the prairies afire in the west, some Democratic leaders privately confess the Davis hope is a forlorn one. But there are none of them who consider his cause hopeless, and many of them are sincerely confident that the public expectation of a Coolidge victory is

Coolidge, Confident Of Victory, Follows Usual Routine Of Day's Work

By GEORGE E. DURNO
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Nov. 4.—While millions of his fellow citizens were determining his political fate at the polls today, President Coolidge was unconcernedly going through the mechanics of a routine White House Tuesday.

To the President, the result of today's election is a foregone conclusion. He already has stated publicly that he expects to maintain the White House as his residence for an additional four years, and he has merely an academic interest in the size of the majority he expects to poll over John W. Davis and Robert M. La Follette.

As is usual on Tuesday's, immediately after breakfast the President went into conference with General Lord, chief of the Budget Bureau. The work of formulating the Federal budget recommendation to congress is now at its height and Mr. Coolidge spent over half an hour in consultation with his financial aide.

The budget conference was followed by the regular Tuesday cabinet meeting although with fully half of the cabinet out of the city to vote, the meeting was rather perfunctory.

Mr. Coolidge formally ended his campaign last night, when, over the radio, he urged every citizen to go to the polls "in the spirit that they would approach a sacrament" and vote "solely in the light of their own conscience."

He went further, however, in this final speech and lashed out for the last time at the "minorities" figuring in the campaign ending today.

"We shall always have with us an element of discontent, an element inspired with more zeal than knowledge," he told his radio audience. "They will always be active and energetic, and they seldom vote on election day."

"But the people at large in this country are not represented by them. They are greatly in the minority. But their number is large enough to be a decisive factor in many elections, unless it is offset by the sober second thought of the people who have something at stake, whether it be earnings from investment or from employment, who are considering not only their children and of coming generations."

"Our institutions never contemplated that the conduct of this country, the direction of its affairs, the adoption of its policies, the maintenance of its principles, should be decided by a minority moved in part by self interest and prejudice."

"Our country is always safe when discussions are made by a majority of those who are entitled to vote. It is always in peril when decisions are made by a minority."

"Our country is always safe when discussions are made by a majority of those who are entitled to vote. It is always in peril when decisions are made by a minority."

due for a surprising shock. The whole question, say the more astute Democratic leaders, simmers down to this:

"How strong is La Follette?"

This is the great enigma of today's election and whoever can supply the answer can predict the outcome of the balloting.

WHAT THE CANDIDATES ARE DOING

This is what the candidates are doing today:

President Coolidge—conducting business as usual and receiving returns tonight in the White House, he having voted by mail earlier in the week. The ballot went to Northampton, Mass.

John W. Davis—resting at home in Locust Valley, L. I. He voted this morning in the court house at Locust Valley.

Robert M. La Follette—spending the day at his home in Madison, Wis., and voting in the court house basement there.

Charles G. Dawes—smoking his pipe at Evanston, Ill., his home, where he will vote today.

Governor Charles W. Bryan—at his office in Lincoln, Neb., planning to vote across the street in the state senate chamber.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler—resting in Washington, his ballot in the mails for Butte, Mont., his home.

ELECTION RETURNS FROM THE NATION AT THE PROGRESS OFFICE TONIGHT

Yes, we are going to announce election returns tonight in the same manner as the baseball series was handled—hot right off the wire; so hot we will not even touch them but read them off simultaneously with the wonderful printer telegraph machine striking off the words.

This machine started in this morning at eight o'clock and just like Calvin Coolidge will work right straight through until the last election night bird has gone to roost. There will be plenty of interesting material ready to be ground out by seven o'clock this evening so come early and be prepared to stay late. We'll stay with you.

The weather man says it is going to be a nice evening, probably a little cold, but your overcoat will take care of that, so will the returns.

The returns will be so voluminous and so varied during the early hours of the evening that we will be unable to attend to any telephone calls. Do not use the telephone. Come over and join the crowd in front of the megaphone announcer.

WIDE VARIANCE IN POLLS' TIME DELAYS RESULT

A difference of five hours in the time for closing the polls in various States prevails in today's election and may serve to make the returns "spotty."

The earliest closing time is in Kentucky, 4 o'clock, and the last to close will be Minnesota at 9 p. m. Arkansas and Florida close at "sundown," and other States range from 5 p. m. to 8 p. m. with the majority at 6 p. m.

Commercialites Place Eight In Nomination For Director Election

The Clearfield Commercial Club held the regular semi-yearly meeting at the Jordan Hotel last evening. The meeting was called for the purpose of placing in nomination the directors for the coming six-month period which will start with the next meeting in this month.

Following the routine business of the club, Mr. J. P. O'Laughlin very clearly laid before the club the major points of the platforms of the three important parties. The exposition of these platforms was very clear and concise and Mr. O'Laughlin used the three nominees' own words clipping from speeches made during the campaign to outline the presidential aspirants' aims and policies.

Miss Ellen Fryer, with Mrs. Alice Bay at the piano, entertained the club with some very pleasing selections on the violin.

The members placed in nomination for directors for the coming election were Messrs Cortez Bell, W. Elbridge Brown, James Mitchell, Jr., A. M. Livright, R. I. Fulton, S. L. Warner, Reuben Nevling and H. F. Bigler.

Oscar Manion, Formerly Constable of Bigler Twp., Is Alleged To Have Sold Booze To Young Smeal

County Coroner, Dr. J. L. Pallum went up to Houtzdale yesterday and summoning a jury made an official investigation of the death of Owen Smeal, aged 36 years, of Irwina, who died in front of a doctor's office in Houtzdale Sunday, while seeking medical assistance as the result of the drinking of moonshine liquor, alleged to have been furnished the dead man by a resident of the little village of Atlantic, located midway between Houtzdale and Madera.

Sunday morning Owen Smeal, who has been a confirmed alcoholic for several years, in company with his nephew, Stacy Smeal, aged 25, and the man reported to the coroner as the man who died from drinking the poisoned liquor, drove to Atlantic in search of moonshine. They stopped at two places before Owen could get what he was after. The second stop was made at the residence of Oscar Mannion, former constable of Bigler township. The nephew testified that Owen Smeal accompanied Mannion to a small building and later came back to the car where he was waiting for him with a quart of moonshine which he claimed had been purchased from Mannion.

The autopsy performed by the coroner disclosed that Smeal's death was due to acute alcoholism. The man's stomach and internal organs were in very bad shape and had the moonshine drinkers of Clearfield county all had opportunity to look at the havoc wrought by man's long continued potations, the consumption of the fiery stuff would surely be very greatly reduced.

As a result of the testimony and the autopsy it was decided that no more serious charge could be lodged against Mannion than violation of the liquor law, and that was accordingly done. A warrant for Mannion's arrest and a search warrant for his premises were placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff H. E. Hummelbaugh and Constable Love, of Houtzdale, and they went to Atlantic after their man. A search of the premises was fruitless as the officers were unable to find either moonshine or the alleged moonshiner, as Mannion had disappeared. It is expected, however that he will be taken into custody today.

Owen Smeal was a hard-working, industrious young man up until a few years ago when his appetite for liquor got away with him and during the last couple of years he had been before the Clearfield county court several times for violating the liquor law, having been found in possession of illicit liquor on those occasions. He was completely pulverized by the poison liquor he had been drinking from time to time and the liquor he drank Sunday morning had no particular ill effect except that it might be considered the "last straw."

Mannion is a former constable of Bigler township, and has been mixed up in liquor law violation before, although he has thus far escaped paying the penalty for his alleged infractions. He was arrested over in Blair county for transporting liquor, but managed to get by because the search of his car was illegally made. He had since left Bigler township and took up his residence at Atlantic.

HOLDING FOUR IN CAMBRIA ROBBERY

Johnstown, Pa., Nov. 4. (INS.)—District Attorney D. P. Weimer today refused to outline the evidence against the four men being held in the county jail at Ebensburg on charges of murder in connection with the $53,000 payroll robbery of the Elsburn Coal Company at Sand Creek.

One of the quartet was arrested shortly after the robbery, and the other three men were returned here last Saturday from Terre Haute, Ind., where they had been arrested on information supplied by Cambria county authorities. At the Ebensburg jail today, it was stated that all information on the prisoners would come from District Attorney Weimer.

Mrs. Ernest Edwards of La Junta, Colorado, and son Everett, of Chicago, and niece, Mrs. Gifford, of Cleveland, accompanied Dr. E. Gard Edwards' body here for burial.

CLEARFIELD COUNTY AGAIN CLOSED TO ALL HUNTING

Clearfield county has been closed for hunting until sufficient rain falls to dampen the leaves and woods and remove the fire hazard.

Governor Pinchot's proclamation, issued last Friday, stopping hunting throughout the State until Thursday, November 6th, was suspended in this county, when a half inch of rain fell during Friday evening. The forest areas are now as dry as they were when the Governor issued his proclamation to safeguard against forest fires. Secretary Seth E. Gordon, of the State Game Commission has notified State Game Protectors W. J. Davis, of Clearfield, W. J. Delansky, of Osceola and Clair W. Kelly, of DuBois, together with all the Forest Rangers and Game Keepers to order all hunters out of the woods in this entire Central Pennsylvania region which embraces Clearfield and all the adjoining counties.

Therefore Clearfield county hunters should bear in mind that the county is closed to all hunting and should govern themselves accordingly.

Governor Pinchot also proposes to issue another proclamation which will again suspend the hunting privilege in Pennsylvania until such time as enough rain falls as to make danger from forest fire out of the question.

True sportsmen and those interested in the conservation of our natural resources will accept the Governor's action with good grace and proper respect. It is absolutely necessary, else such action would not have been taken.

Alleged Auto Tool Thieves Placed In Jail To Await Court Trial

Don Merrifield and Charles White, the 17-year-old Mt. Joy youths, arrested by the local police for robbing parked automobiles of tools and other articles, were held by Squire John yesterday for court. Bail to the amount of $300 each was asked and when it was not forthcoming the young men were placed in jail.

White said he drove out Ogden avenue with a young man from that section after Merrifield had been arrested by Officer Woolridge Saturday evening and had thrown his sack of tools in the weeds along the road above town. When he visited the spot in company with the officers yesterday afternoon he found some person had beaten him to it and got away with the tools.

EXPECT TO ARREST BOMBER OF MAYOR KISTLER'S HOME

Niles, Ohio, Nov. 4. (INS.)—Arrests of those who dynamited the home of Mayor Harvey C. Kistler—the prelude of Saturday's rioting between Klan and anti-Klan forces here, which resulted in the proclamation of martial law, after 12 persons were wounded, was promised within a few hours by state secret service men, who have been quietly at work assembling evidence.

The identity of the bombers has been established, detectives said, and arrests awaited only the finding of one important witness which was believed to be a matter of hours.

A surprise was promised when the bombers were arrested. This is taken to mean that suspects are not identified with the anti-Klan faction but were persons who had their own reasons for the bombing of the mayor's home. Niles marched to the polls today to register their vote in national, state and county elections, under the watchful eye of the military authorities, although in no way was the process of voting interfered with. Governor Donahue had been hopeful that he could end martial law before the election, but General Hough, in command of state troops, told him that the military should remain in control for a day yet. The night passed without disorder.

Town With Red Headed Bats And White Crickets Does Its Voting Early

New Ashford, Mass., Nov. 4. (INS.)—New Ashford was first under the wire again today with its complete election returns. The polls opened at 6 a. m. Fifteen minutes later the vote was in. New Ashford gave 20 votes to Coolidge, four to Davis. Of the six remaining registered voters, two were ill and not voting, four were out of town.

The voters got to the polls and had it over with today with astonishing alacrity, considering that there are no trolley cars in this town. Among other things that it has not are a real coal burning stove or more than two telephones.

I has one church—a Methodist Church—built with funds subscribed by public spirited citizens in the bar room of the town's ancient tavern. It was built in 1830.

The town also claims its bats are red headed and its crickets lily white. That story got circulation when the tavern still operated its bar.

ANOTHER FIRST

Kansas City, Nov. 4. (INS.)—Shortly after the polls opened here this morning, the election officials of the first precinct in the tenth ward announced its vote complete. The unofficial figures of the balloting, for president, as announced by precinct Judge, showed Coolidge 52; Davis, 12; La Follette, 1.

Woodland Driver and His Car Bang Into Second St. House After Smash

Another of those "lucky" automobile accidents, in which, while the machines engaged get pretty well banged up, the occupants of some escape injury, occurred at the corner of North Second and Reed streets about 4 o'clock Monday afternoon. Car owned and operated by Frank Conway of Woodland, and Thomas F. Duckett of Hillsdale, were in the wreck.

Conway, driving an Oldsmobile, was coming down Second street and attempted to turn into Reed street just as Duckett in his Chevrolet was about to turn into Second off Reed. The two cars met almost head on. A fender was tipped off the Chevy and while Conway's Oldsmobile ran up over the curb straddled and rode down a shade tree and barged into the side of the porch of the residence of Ed T. Bird.

The side of the porch was caved in for a considerable distance and the front end of Conway's car was also pretty badly banged up. Conway offered to settle for the damage to the tree and porch and then trundled his car off to the garage for repair.

Woman Who Leaped To Death At Harrisburg Is Identified As Pittsburgher

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 4. (INS.)—That the woman who leaped to her death from the fifth floor of a hotel here was from Pittsburgh, was practically established today by George H. Herbert, 354 Highland avenue, Pittsburgh, who arrived here today.

Herbert said he received a letter from the girl whom he knew as Marion Meyer, last Sunday night in which she said she was going to kill herself. Yesterday, Herbert learned of the suicide here and arrived today. According to Herbert, he and Miss Meyer had been friends in Pittsburgh, but had quarreled on Saturday. He said he knew nothing of the girl's whereabouts until he received the letter.

It was further learned that the girl had lived on Hasting street in Pittsburgh, and that on Saturday she had sent a trunk from there to 5305 Broad street, East End, Pittsburgh. At the Hasting street address she was known as Miss Iuston, police said.

1,000 CLEARFIELD VOTERS OUT DURING EARLY PART OF DAY

The finest weather ever provided for Clearfield voters in the memory of our oldest voters served to bring out a record-breaking vote in the early hours of the forenoon, but a tightening up or falling off became perceptible about the noon hour, with the result that what promised at the start-off to be a record-breaking vote, began to look at noon as though she might slip away below expectations, when the outlying wards showed what appeared to be a falling off over banner years of the recent past.

However, there appears to be great activity at every polling place and the army of workers engaged by the different party chiefs may swell the total to former unheard of figures, due to the interest in the presidential and congressional fights and the fine weather.

The total vote in the different precincts at 12:45 o'clock was as follows:

First Ward	202
Second Ward, 1st Pct.	227
Second Ward, 2d Pct.	88
Third Ward, 1st Pct.	91
Third Ward, 2d Pct.	160
Fourth Ward	76

Total

There were 50 votes cast in Hillsdale Precinct of Lawrence township at noon. At Plymptonville Precinct at 2 o'clock there were 116 Lawrence township votes cast and 12 from Plymptonville, the electors of both Lawrence and Plympton voting at the same election house. The vote at Ridge City precinct of Lawrence township at 2 o'clock totaled 80, or 240 for the three districts.

VIOLENCE AT CHICAGO

Chicago, Nov. 4. (INS.)—One man was shot and one polling place was burned today as Chicago went to the polls to cast what promised to be one of the largest votes in its history.

Six men in a speeding automobile shot at Antonio Rodzinski, as he was leaving a crowded polling place. His condition is said to be serious. The motive for the attack has not been determined.

The fire of the booth is said to have been caused by an overheated furnace. It destroyed ballots, ballot boxes and booths.

MRS. HARDING SOMEWHAT BETTER

Marion, Ohio, Nov. 4. (INS.)—The condition of Mrs. Warren G. Harding, widow of President Harding, was somewhat better today.

"She had a fairly good night," Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, her physician, said. "She was restless up until about one a. m., then went to sleep and had anywhere from three to five hours sleep."

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 4. (INS.)—James C. Crouthamel, and Paul J. Reel, members of Troop E, State Police, were probably fatally injured when their motorcycle collided with a street car here today. The men were thrown against a steel pole, and suffered broken arms and legs and internal injuries.

Mr. J. A. Shull has returned from Daerport, Iowa, where he spent some time visiting his son Lester.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

The ruthless and don't care spirit of the few reckless automobile drivers who make it bad for the much greater percent of decent, respectable and South Second street during the past couple of weeks when no less than three dogs have been run over and killed. It is a very rare case when a dog is killed by an automobile that the driver does not run his machine wantonly and despoiled over the poor dog. A little precaution, a slackening of speed will in 99 cases out of the 100 allow the poor dog to get away in safety.

The importance of one vote may be shown many times in today's election. Who knows what one vote or the lack of it will do? For instance in 1784 Jefferson's ordinance, which would have prohibited slavery in Tennessee, Alabama and Mississippi, was defeated by only one vote. Read Von Hilst's "Constitutional History of the United States" where he shows that if Jefferson's ordinance had won instead of losing by one vote, it might have prevented the Civil War which came later. In 1832 Virginia's general assembly considered a plan to emancipate African slaves—wipe out slavery. It won in the House by 9 to 4. But in the Senate it lost by one vote. All through our history one vote has frequently determined the action of legislatures and congresses.

October, 1924, will go down into history as the most arid month of the year and the driest October in fifty years. At no time since measurements of rainfall began in 1874 has there been such a light rainfall in the month. There was rainfall on but two days. On Oct. 8, there was a light shower and the measuring instrument showed nothing but a trace. On Oct. 27, there was a trace. On Oct. 28, there was a trace. On Oct. 29, there was a trace. On Oct. 30, there was a trace. On Oct. 31, there was a trace. Inasmuch as measurements of rainfall are measured from noon until noon, the shower of Oct. 31 will be counted for November. However, if actually measured, it would add but little to the total, for while it drizzled for a few minutes, it was not much more than a spell and dampened the ardor of Halloween and did not make very much in the measuring instrument. Compared with last year, and the previous year, there was a great difference as to make a great difference. October, 1923, had 1.44 inches; October, 1922, had 1.44 inches; and October, 1921, had .94 inches. It is altogether probable that October, 1924, was not only the driest of the year, but from 1874 to 1924, it is decreed the driest of any year since 1872.

AMERICAN LEGION CARD PARTY

The greatest event to be staged by the American Legion auxiliary of the Clearfield Post 6 was in the form of a card party held in the Clearfield home last Friday evening. This party was a social and social success. Hundreds of cards, made up of playing cards and pinholes were in play, and the game was stationary. The American Legion on the committees for the great credit for their efforts, which were plainly in evidence. With the spirit of all these such a huge success would have been impossible. Prizes were awarded to both first and second high scores for each game in the evening. Refreshments were served, after which the hope chest was given away. The lucky number was the seventh ticket drawn from the lot, and it bore the number 5279 and the name of Miss Gertrude Dougherty. The committees wish to extend their thanks and appreciation to the public in general for their attitude in making this affair a success, and to all those who so ably assisted the committees in charge.

PENNSY-GRAMS

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 4 (INS)—Fire early today practically wiped out most of the buildings in Gratz, a small town in the upper part of Dauphin county, according to reports reaching here. DR. D. N. MILLER'S STIRRING SERMON

On "The Supremacy of God's Power" was based on the great text in Zechariah 4:6-7, from which he preached last Monday night in Trinity church. It was a fine Monday night congregation. The eagerness of the people, their spirit of response, their attentive, their participation in the various exercises, the altar service, well, it all impressed and heartened Dr. Miller.

Rev. C. K. Gibson was present and took part. Rev. G. B. M. Reidell, of Woodland, was in the congregation. A goodly company of singers took the special sittings and rendered big service. Dr. Miller is not only a fine singer, but he knows how to lead singing and to enlist the hearty aid of others to whom the Lord has given voices to be used for Him.

No service will be held this Tuesday night. Pastor Jacobs announced for November 20 the bazaar and a rummage sale. The Ladies ask all members of the Church and Congregation to search out what they can give to this sale. Friday night plans are promising a goodly meeting for the young people and the school. The classes will meet in the School room and—well, all the arrangements must not be announced. Teachers and officers are busy in working out the plans.

Wednesday night is to be a large night. Mrs. Miller will return with her husband, who is now in Harrisburg to vote. Organ and piano will be used together hereafter with instruments. They will sing and direct the singing. Dr. Miller has additional plans for this intensive drive which he will announce, arranging the preliminaries on Wednesday night.

DR. GARD EDWARDS DIED SUDDENLY

Citizens of La Junta in general were shocked this morning when news was circulated that Dr. M. Gard Edwards had died suddenly. The end came some time early Wednesday evening while he was sitting in a chair in the reception room of his office at 805 San Juan avenue.

About 8 o'clock in the evening a patient went into the doctor's office and noticed him sitting in a chair and it was at once found that he was dead. Coroner King was called and took charge of the body, and after investigation found that death was due to cerebral hemorrhage. He had been dead perhaps half an hour when found.

Had Dr. Edwards lived until the fifth of December he would have been 50 years of age. He came here with his family about 20 years ago and was one of the city's leading physicians.

The doctor is survived by his wife and three children, Everett in Milwaukee, Wis.; Gail in Hollywood, Calif.; and Mrs. Max Moberly of Kellogg, Iowa.

LUTHERAN CHURCH NOTES

Sunday was observed as Laura E. Gilliland Day. This day is devoted to the study of missions and particularly the work being done in Africa where Sister Laura Gilliland is working. At the morning hour Rev. Fred McKendrick, who has spent nineteen years in Africa and who has just recently returned from a ten year stay there, brought us the message. He spoke of the Child Life in Africa and vividly portrayed the need of Christian training and child nurture. He spoke of the cruelty of the witch doctors when called to see a child that had not been properly fed, and whose parents believe that some evil spirit had entered the child. He urged all speed possible in building the nursery that would care for children, who in turn would become Christian missionaries among their own people.

At the evening hour Sister Emma Francis of New York City, the first colored Deaconess of the United Lutheran church spoke on Christianity and its results during the past two hundred years. She made an earnest appeal for help in bringing her people to the knowledge of the Christ. Her talk was preceded by six young people, each presenting some particular thing the negro has brought us. Thus we learned that we owe much to the other races of the world. The best we can give them is Jesus Christ.

Truly it was a good day for St. John's. The offering for the nursery fund was the best one received yet for which we are grateful. Wednesday evening Quiet Hour 7:30. At 8:30 the Church Council will meet and there will also be a meeting of the Willing Helpers after the Quiet Hour service.

PAY IT A VISIT

The recently completed State Hospital at Philipsburg, which replaces the old frame structure opened on February 23, 1891, as the Cottage State Hospital for the Eighth District of Pennsylvania, was opened for public inspection on Friday last. And during Friday, Saturday and Sunday last was visited by thousands of the people of this section and the area making up the Eighth District, which extends from Snow Shoe, in Centre County, on the north, to Janesville, in Clearfield County on the south, a territory of 400 square miles and containing a population of 55,000 persons. Each and every one of those thousands of visitors were simply carried away by what they saw, and all were a unit in declaring the new Philipsburg Hospital to be the very finest institution of its kind to be found anywhere.

It is just that and while there may be larger hospitals in the country there are none finer, more substantial or more complete, in every way than Philipsburg now boasts. We take the following complete description and picture of the new institution from the "Philipsburg Ledger's" "Hospital Supplement" of Friday last:

Description of New Hospital
The hospital is built of brick, stone, steel and concrete and is of absolute fire-proof construction. Being designed thus for both safety and cleanliness. Everything about it is ultra-modern and leaves nothing to be desired, and the institution will long stand as a monument to the progress, public-spirited citizens of Philipsburg and vicinity who got the vision of what was needed, and by constant application to and insistence upon the powers that be in the State, were privileged to see their plans developed into such an institution as is now theirs. The detailed description of this wonderful hospital follows:

Ground, or First Floor Has Many Features

At the south wing of the building is the admission entrance for ambulance cases, this entrance being on the ground or first floor. To the right, inside the entrance, is the receiving room for accident cases where they may be prepared for surgical attention. Adjoining is a room for the treatment of dispensary patients, and a waiting room for patients.

In this section, all T. B. and G. U. cases will be given attention. All of the laboratory accessories in this department are of solid porcelain. Located in this section is the reconstruction room, in which the work of restoring bones and muscles to their normal conditions will be promoted. The equipment here includes all of the paraphernalia generally used in this important line of hospital work.

The ground or first floor is divided by a corridor, as are all other floors, the corridor running north and south through the building. On the right of the corridor is the laboratory and pharmacy suite, consisting of four rooms. Across the corridor is the X-ray suite which includes a waiting room, plate film room, utility room, office, X-ray room and lavatory. Adjoining this is the fluoroscope suite, for X-ray treatments which includes a deep therapy machine room which is plastered with a mixture which contains barium instead of lead, making the walls impervious to penetration of light cast out by the machine. Power which will enter this room at 2200 volts can be stepped up to 250,000 volts by the use of equipment installed for that purpose. Beyond this point are lavatories and toilets for men, a room for the storage of the clothing of the ward patients, the clothing being placed in sterilized bags, and checked.

On this floor is the nurses and staff dining room, with plenty of light and space. Adjoining is the kitchen, which is equipped with all modern conveniences, including an electric range, electric dish-washer, electric vegetable parer, a steam kettle with a capacity of twenty-five gallons, a steam vegetable cooker, steam coffee urns, fruit Marie, warming tables, vegetable sink, and all other equipment which is needed in a complete, modern kitchen.

Access the corridor is the kitchen help dining room, toilet and lavatory, a cooling room for supplies, with a special compartment for milk, butter, eggs and all other perishable food-stuffs. Then there is the kitchen store room, at a convenient point, together with a general store room into which all stores and supplies will be first received and checked by a receiving clerk who shall have an office wherein the records for this department shall be taken care of. The clerk in charge of this receiving station will be held responsible for the reception and distribution of all materials used in the operation of the hospital. A corridor 50 feet long by 8 feet wide serves to connect the laundry with the main modern laundry essentials here, is a room set apart for use in mending and repairing material in need of this service.

The ground or first floor also contains three utility rooms, for the storage of drugs and other material, and a machine room in which is housed the machinery which controls automatic elevator service running from the kitchen.

Administration Work on Second Floor

The second floor is called the Administration floor. Upon entering the main door on this floor, the information department is at the right, being equipped with a Bell Telephone switchboard, each private room being connected with the Bell system. Each floor is equipped with the Huntington & Clearfield Telephone system, so that the institution will have adequate means of communication with the outside world.

It might be well to state here, that there are no bells to be rung nor buzzers to sound in the event a patient wishes the nurse to enter the room. The nurses call system consists of a light placed at the door of each room, the light being turned on by the patient pressing a button on the wall of the room, and it cannot be turned off until the nurse enters the room to answer the call. The lights are placed so that they can be observed by the nurse from her station on each floor, the stations being placed at convenient places. The nurse's station is also equipped with a telephone. The main corridor is laid with linoleum covered with Battleshield linoleum, cemented to the floor, and is sound-proof.

On this floor, there is the General office, superintendent's office, staff locker room, eye ward, nurse's stations, utility sinks, medicine closets, two large wards for men's medical cases, a quiet room, into which it will be possible to remove any patient who may be making noise which disturbs other patients, or into which a patient can be moved in order to provide quiet for that patient. On each floor, there is a built-in linen closet, large enough to take care of the linen needs of each floor.

Also, each floor is provided with a spacious sun parlor on the south side of each wing. The second floor provides an interne's suite of four rooms, with shower and lavatories, a staff locker room, surgical dressing room, the paraphernalia generally used in this important line of hospital work.

The surgical ward is on this floor, being at the end of the building opposite to the medical wards. The accident ward is about 24x56 feet, and receives light from 11 double windows, and is close by the sun porch at the north end of the building. In the eye ward the water service is controlled in such a manner as to keep both hands of the nurse or physician free to handle the patient, the water supply being controlled by the feet, and the drainage being controlled by the knee.

This is just one of the very many ideas which have been incorporated in the institution for the purpose of enlarging on its efficiency.

Women's and Children's Ward On Third Floor

The third floor houses the women's and children's wards, and the maternity suite, the latter being located at the north wing. The maternity ward comprises every detail necessary for a department of this character, both as to its completeness and in the matter of the arrangement of the various rooms.

The finest types of equipment for the sanitary care of both mother and babe have been installed. This department is prepared to give the highest class of service possible in modern obstetrics.

The sterilizers are all operated by high pressure steam; the sterilizing vats can be opened by a foot-valve, and they close by vacuum making it unnecessary for the attendant to use the hands for this purpose. This feature is very important.

The children's ward which is located in the west wing is ideal for this purpose, as it is roomy, with a play-room in connection, and is light and airy, thereby creating a surrounding which should go a long way in keeping the little patients in a cheerful frame of mind.

Photograph Of New Cottage State Hospital

ated in the west wing is ideal for this purpose, as it is roomy, with a play-room in connection, and is light and airy, thereby creating a surrounding which should go a long way in keeping the little patients in a cheerful frame of mind.

The children's ward will include in its equipment everything necessary for use in the work of restoration of crippled children to a wholesome condition of health and physical activity. This feature will be of untold value to the community at large as the work of restoration has been developed to such an extent that many cases, which years ago were considered hopeless, may now be taken care of, and instead of having numerous crippled children growing up to become more or less of a burden upon their relatives, themselves, and sometimes the community, due to disfigurement of the bones or joints, they will now have a chance to be restored to full usefulness of their body and become assets for the general good of the country, able to enjoy life as it should be enjoyed by every normal person.

It is most gratifying to note that the Philipsburg Rotary Club are sponsors for the furnishing and equipping of this ward for the children.

There are four wards for women on this floor, with a quiet room on each wing, wherein patients may be isolated when it is to the interest of all patients to have this done.

On this floor also, are floor service rooms, linen rooms, a clothes chute running down to the basement, clothes closets, blanket warmer, utility rooms, nurses retiring room, with bath, and toilets at convenient points in various parts of the floor space.

This floor is also equipped with an isolation suite for the purpose of caring for contagious diseases, this suite being supplied with a room for the patient, a room for the nurse, lavatory and toilet, bath, and closet, the arrangement being such that this section can be cut off from the remainder of the floor, with ingress and egress for the nurse being provided by way of the firetower which leads to the ground directly to the outside.

Fourth Floor Has All Private Rooms

And Operating Suite

The fourth floor consists of all private rooms, and provides for the accommodation of twenty private patients, while the section located in the west wing is arranged in such a manner that it can be converted into a private suite for the purpose of providing accommodations for friends or relatives of a patient when there is a desire on their part to remain in the hospital during a critical period of illness of a patient in whom they may be directly interested. This feature will prove a blessing to many persons who would without this accommodation, be compelled to remain away from a loved one, resulting in a separation which probably would be painful to the interest of the patient, and in addition would cause a serious disturbance of mind on the part of the person excluded. This suite would consist of a patient's room, a bedroom, living room, and bath and lavatory.

On this floor there are two floor toilets, two utility rooms, one linen room, and nurses stations.

The operating suite is also on this floor, and in this department, as in all other departments of this wonderful institution, the very latest devices and modern equipment has been installed.

There are two operating rooms, one for major operations and one for minor operations, and everything in the way of modern and up-to-date arrangement of an operation suite has been brought into play here. The sterilization room is a revelation to the uninitiated, and deserves more than a moment of a visitor's time.

Before being carried to the sterilizer the water is filtered, to insure sanitation of water supply. The sterilizing tank used for surgical instruments can be opened by the pressure of a lever, using the foot for this purpose, and when the compacted instruments are placed in the sterilizer, or taken out as the case may be, the door of the tank will close automatically. This permits of the free use of both hands upon the part of the surgeon or nurse.

In the major operating room, the artificial light in use is the very best obtainable, and is of the most ingenious mechanical construction. The construction of this lamp is of such a character, that by inserting a 100 watt electric globe into the socket, the light which is reflected back to the operating table is the equivalent of 1750 watts. The position and angle of the lamp can be manipulated by suspension cords which are attached to the ceiling.

A smaller lamp, capable of focusing the light into a smaller area is also a part of the lighting equipment. The suite is provided with a blanket warmer, anesthetizing room, a surgeon's clean-up room. The floor consists of rubber tile and does not reproduce any sound.

Running up from this floor is a stairway leading out to the roof, which is constructed of tile, and when the weather is permissible, the roof can be used by convalescents. A wonderful view of the countryside to the west and north is to be obtained from this point.

Elevator System Is Automatic From Basement To Roof
The elevator shaft is constructed with an entrance from the roof, thereby avoiding the necessity of climbing up stairways in order to reach the roof.

The elevator system is operated by a series of push buttons, and works automatically, and should a person enter an elevator, press the button for the direction in which they want to travel the elevator will not move. If the person has left the door open, the elevator shaft are safe on each floor.

In constructing the doorway of each room, care has been taken to have the opening four feet in width, in order to allow for the removal of both bed and patient, when necessary.

Lighting System Indirect Type
The lighting system throughout the building is of the indirect type, there is no glare, nor any gloom; the lighting being arranged to eliminate unequal distribution.

Heating Plant, Laundry, Garage
The central heating plant consists of two, low pressure Oil City boilers whose capacity is sufficient to provide adequate heat for the entire institution.

Placed beside the boilers of the heating plant there is one high pressure Oil City boiler which will supply the hot water for sterilization purposes, cooking, and hot water for general use.

On the north side of the boiler room is the coal bin, and above the bin is the transformer room in which is located transformers with a capacity of eighty-seven and one-half horse power by which the power is stepped down from the high tension line to a point suitable for domestic use. The boiler room is equipped with a lavatory for the convenience of the workmen.

The smoke-stack in connection with the boiler room is built of tile ninety feet high, eight feet in diameter at the bottom and four and one-half feet in diameter at the top.

At the rear of the boiler room is the garage with a capacity of four cars, the garage being equipped with heating facilities, plenty of light, a good concrete floor built to make drainage necessary for the washing of cars.

There is a concrete walk four feet wide which covers the entire distance from the garage to the nurses' home, a distance of four hundred feet.

Leading from this walk are concrete approaches which reach the steps at all entrances at the rear of the hospital.

Adjoining the boiler room is the laundry which is equipped with all modern machinery and devices necessary in the operation of an up-to-the-minute laundry.

The Real "Go Getter"

Much credit for this institution must be given to the able business and professional men who make up the Board of Trustees, the Medical and Surgical Staff, but these gentle men themselves, and every person familiar with the long continued fight to realize their ambitions doff their hats to Hon. H. B. Scott as the real "go getter" of the lot. Identified with the institution as a member of the Board for many years, no man gave more of his time and energy in its behalf. He had the privilege of introducing the bill in the Legislature appropriating the first $50,000 for the erection of the new building he has devoted almost every waking moment since that time to furthering this work. It is the only State institution built without having a contract let for the job, but Mr. Scott and his fellow trustees believed they could build a better building at less cost and get just what they wanted the other way and Governor Sproul consented to this being done upon the personal guarantee in writing of Mr. Scott that he would devote his time to supervising not only the purchase of all the materials but the building, equipping and furnishing of the hospital. He was tickled up in his every decision and move by the other trustees and this magnificent institution is the result.

The first $50,000 appropriation was made in 1921. It was but the start. The corner stone was laid in October, 1922, but Governor Pinchot, with his peculiar ideas of economy in appropriation, where his friends are not in the vanguard of the project or proposition, vetoed the appropriation to ward the building by the Legislature of 1923, but that only caused Mr. Scott and the men behind him to fight all the harder. May they live long to enjoy their success in the service of humanity.

A POWERFUL ORGANIZATION

The State Game, Fish & Forestry Association is one of the most powerful organizations of sportsmen in Penna.

It covers the greater part of Clearfield and Centre County. The membership is already over 800. Its object is to conserve our forests and streams and the protection of the wild life therein. It is already accomplishing many good things. The owner end of Clearfield County has had more trout planted this year than in any other 10 years added together. Every trout came through the State Game, Fish and Forestry Association.

The organization needs your help. Come to the meeting of sportsmen in the Court House Monday evening, Nov. 10th, at 8 p. m.

Hear what is being done for the sportsmen in this part of the state.

APPRECIATED SERVICE

The song service rendered by the choir in the Presbyterian church Sunday evening, was certainly beautiful and soul inspiring. I wonder if we, as a congregation, appreciate it as it should—it is well worth while to have an evening now and then given over to them, and we should be just proud of them, especially the "Tenors" and "Basses". All the numbers were good, especially the "Te Deum" and I know I voice the whole congregation in giving them this little word of praise. Let us give them the flowers while they are giving us the best.

ONE-PIECE BUILDINGS

Houses and more pretentious buildings hereafter may be comparable to union suits. The one-piece building has arrived.

It started with the "poured" structure of concrete, devised by Edison and described by the fancy Greek word "monolith", which signifies "one-stone". That type of structure has not yet made such headway as the inventor expected, but it is gaining, and is sure to become more popular as lumber becomes scarce and expensive and architects work out more attractive forms of concrete homes.

Now it is the one-piece structure of steel, or of steel and concrete, with the steel parts all welded together and the skeleton surrounded and filled with concrete in the usual way.

Engineers belonging to the American Welding Society say that welding is the coming thing in architecture, and will take the place of riveting. The din of the pneumatic riveter will give way to the roar of the gas torch or the flare of the electric welder. When a job is finished, the skeleton will be literally one great piece of steel, as if shaped on the forge of some superhuman blacksmith. There are said to be big advantages in this process, in time and cost of construction and in the strength of the structure itself.

Now let the engineers provide a fancy word for that. The obvious companion-word of "monolith", which according to the Greek dictionary would be "monochalyb", somehow seems a bit lacking in euphonic appeal.

TEACHING "COMES BACK"

During the war, and afterward, the profession of teaching sank into disrepute. Teachers' salaries did not rise along with those of various other occupations, and suffered especially in comparison with mechanical trades. Unskilled workmen came to make more money, in great numbers of cases, than skilled teachers who had started with naturally fine brains and made a life work of instructing youth. Skilled workmen earned princely incomes in comparison. Worse still, if possible, the esteem in which teachers were held sank low. A severely "practical" society came to scorn their calling. Their self-respect suffered.

Accordingly, many were driven from the profession, in order to make a decent living otherwise, with brain or hands. Few young people starting in life had the courage to plan for a teaching career. It began to look as if the schools must starve for instruction, or get along with second and third-rate instructors.

That discouraging outlook has changed already. A striking indication of the new trend is seen in a prominent college, where more students give teaching as their chosen vocation than anything else. The prospective teachers are 36 per cent of all those registering a preference.

Any community will give evidence of the fact that teachers have regained, or are now regaining, the respect and rewards they deserve. Pay has been raised almost everywhere to a level which will enable the teachers to live more nearly on a scale suiting their importance in the community and the demands of their very exacting work. Two influences work together. They get more pay because they are more respected, and they are more respected because they get more pay. So teaching grows popular again, fortunately for society.

ISN'T THIS YOUR PROBLEM?

"I intend to save money every month but somehow it just melts away and at the end of the month there's nothing left to save."

Why not reverse things and take out a fixed sum on pay day and put it to work in an interest bearing account at this bank? Live on the rest of your salary and you'll experience the self respect and pleasure of getting ahead.

In other words, pay yourself first. It makes a world of difference in one's prosperity account.

was well assisted by Hall and Vogel of his own town. After the game Mr. Turner congratulated Capt. Wilson on the fine showing of his team.

Considerable trouble is being had with the "ball giving" after the game. Never before has it been customary for Clearfield to present the victor with a ball. But Johnstown and Lock Haven, being newcomers to it, expected a ball, but the coin went tails.

—Saturday's Score
Altoona High got an unexpected mauling Saturday at the hands of Harrisburg Tech 60-0. The keynote to this can be seen in this, Wicker, Ajernathy, Cust and Hess were carried from the field, before the game had been under way long.

Johnstown's big squad put Lancaster in the hole in a 27-14 affair. Not so bad when you consider it was 17-0 here and Lancaster is considered a strong team.

Windber's 7-3 win over Altoona was no fluke as can be seen by their work Saturday, when they held West-House Tech of Pittsburg to a scoreless tie.

DuBois High's failure to make the point after score resulted in a Kane win Saturday 7-6. Kane was outplayed in everything except fumbling and DuBois did all that. The game was refereed by Stan Keck, a former All American while at Princeton.

Curwensville seems to have struck their gait Saturday by winning 26 to 6 from Cooper Township. It was a great game tho from first to last whistle.

The Western Penna. Championship looks like "anybody's ball" at present. New Castle had been looking like positive winners only to have Jeannette lick them. Then after Jeannette held it long enough to get swell head-up steps Norwin High and they tip Jeannette 19-12. But, believe it or not, Lock Haven High, altho not getting much notoriety now will not be a second or third when the race ends.

Little Willie's Chirp.
Father brought home a bachelor friend to dinner and mother took special pains to cook everything nice to eat. After the meal was over the guest said: "Well, I certainly enjoyed that; it's the best dinner I've had in a long time." Little Willie spoke up. "It's the best we've had, too"—Ex change.

Y. M. C. A. JUNIORS ENJOY HALLOWEEN SOCIAL

The Junior Members thoroughly enjoyed their Halloween Social in the Community Room at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday night, with two solid hours of fun and frolic. As usual the boys arrived in mummies costume and were 'dumb' until the prizes for costumes were awarded. Then they let loose with a bedlam of noise, each with a souvenir noise maker joining in with the grand parade, after which games were in order until the close, with refreshments at hand during the entire evening.

Five of the boys were so well disguised that they were not recognized by the other mummies: Chas. Murray a Mexican, Roy Dunlap an Harlequin, Walter Derrick a bandit, Mirle Davis a clown, and Leon Patchel a hobo. All the above boys received a Y. M. C. A. pin as prize; similar awards were given to the following as costume prizes: Most comical, John Harder; best imitation of a girl, Frank Ellis; honorable mention, Chester Kinkead; unique costume, Robert Thorn, Mexican Troubadour; Fancy costume, Ebert Melvain, dude, and Stewart Tate, Honorable mention Robert Thorn and Stewart Tate excelled in the pie eating contest, Oscar Shaffner and Max Hall in the apple eating on a string contest.

Announcement was made to the Junior members of a special award to be given to each boy bringing in a new member before January 1st, one good story book for each new member introduced, with a grand prize for the boy bringing in the greatest number by the close of the year. All boys of the ages 12-14 are invited to enroll in two boys clubs to be organized this week under the leadership of Messrs Victor Frendberg and Frank Deam. These are community boys clubs which meet weekly at the Y. M. C. A. open to all interested boys in Clearfield, whether they are members or not, who wish to enjoy the four-fold, mental, social, physical and religious program of these boys clubs.

Constipation dulls the youthful mind—makes children backward in their studies—makes them listless—and can lead to serious diseases. Constipation is a dangerous disease.

You cannot afford to take chances in getting relief. You cannot afford to experiment or put off. Kellogg's Bran brings relief—permanent relief if eaten regularly. Even in the most chronic cases of constipation it is guaranteed to bring results. If it fails, your grocer will return your money.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krambled, has brought relief to thousands because it is ALL bran. Remember, only ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. That is why Kellogg's Bran is recommended by doctors. It sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine. It

INTER-CHURCH BOWLING

LEAGUE GOING STRONG

The second of the series of contests in the Inter-Church Bowling League was held Monday night on the Community Y. M. C. A. Alleys between the leading teams of last season's series. The Presbyterians got under in the first game strong with a margin of 37 pins at the end. But in the second match 'Cy' Williams got his team rolling working down the center of the alley for his usual number of strikes, and led his crowd to victory for the East End Methodists. Their enthusiasm lasted throughout the third contest and they took over the second game after a hard battle.

'Cy' belongs the honors of the first 500 score and high three for the series so far. The League was glad to welcome some of the old timers, Elmer White and Roy Fulton, and they proved they had not lost their knack of keeping them out of the gutters.

Thursday night will see the West Side Methodists and St. John's Lutheran bowlers for three games. Captains of the teams will be elected by popular vote of those turning out for the first game Thursday night.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Sunday in the Presbyterian church was one which will be long remembered by many. The morning service brought a message from the Book of Books, on the theme, "What is that in Thine Hand?" At this critical time in the nation's history, it is vital that every one eligible should vote. It is necessary, it is their Christian duty, and privilege.

The Sabbath School and the Bible Classes were all well attended, and showed the true spirit of Christian fellowship.

The evening service was the crowning service of the day. It was a service of music, the very finest that could be given, those who heard could only realize a little more deeply the great power of song in proclaiming the glad tidings to all. We will all be looking forward to the next musical night which will close the second series of sermons, the first one next Sabbath evening.

Meetings for the week: Tuesday evening the monthly meeting of the King's Daughters at the home of Mrs. C. W. Howard. Annual thank offering meeting.

The Reedsville Ladies' Aid will meet in the Chapel, Tuesday evening for quilting and sewing.

Wednesday evening the mid-week prayer and praise service invites you.

Thursday evening the prayer service at the Reedsville Chapel. This night will be Church night. We especially invite all the members of the main church to join us in our service this night. A special musical program has been prepared we know it will be well worth while. Come, we want you.

A series of sermons illustrated by objects will be started next Sabbath evening and continuing for the next two weeks. Next Sabbath, November 9, the subject will be Habit.

Saturday, November 22, the Westminster Guild will hold their annual Christmas Bazaar. It will be called a Day of the Week Bazaar.

Thursday, November 13, will be another big day in the church. A Missionary Rally of all the Presbyterian churches in this district, meeting in our church.

Do Thought.

Little do men perceive what solitude is and how far it extendeth; for a crowd is not company, and faces are but a gallery of pictures and talk but a tinkling cymbal where there is no love.—Bacon.

TRINITY CHURCH ITEMS

Eible School brought out a fine attendance, running 455, with an offering of $33.40 for World Service. The Home Missions study, centering in the problems and opportunities of immigration, was pertinently presented by W. Elbridge Brown. This was a crowded and inspiring session of the School.

The special selections of the chorus were exceptionally interpreted, both morning and evening, the night anthem suited finely the evangelistic service. The exposition of 1 Timothy 1:12-16 emphasized "Experienced Redemption." This scripture brought pungent words, and offers of mercy and long suffering by God which sinners, even the "chief" like Paul, can experience.

Dr. D. N. Miller Preaches and Sings.

Dr. Miller was present according to announcement at night, preaching from Psalm 108:27-28 on the theme, "To you make God a last resort," which was variously studied in the reception of mercies, enjoyment of prosperity, in the breaking of health, the suffering from affliction, and the facing of adversity. Telling incidents were given and clear illustrations. After the sermon Dr. Miller sang in his persuasive manner, "You May Have All The World." Mrs. Miller will be present on Wednesday night, a severe cold detaining her in Harrisburg, and requiring medical treatment.

TRINITY CHURCH ITEMS

Eible School brought out a fine attendance, running 455, with an offering of $83.40 for World Service. The Home Missions study, centering in the problems and opportunities of immigration, was pertinently presented by W. Elbridge Brown. This was a crowded and inspiring session of the School.

The special selections of the chorus were exceptionally interpreted, both morning and evening, the night anthem suited finely the evangelistic service. The exposition of 1 Timothy 1:12-16 emphasized "Experienced Redemption." This scripture brought pungent words, and offers of mercy and long suffering by God which sinners, even the "chief" like Paul, can experience.

Dr. D. N. Miller Preaches and Sings.

Dr. Miller was present according to announcement at night, preaching from Psalm 108:27-28 on the theme, "To you make God a last resort?" which was variously studied in the reception of mercies, enjoyment of prosperity, in the breaking of health, the suffering from affliction, and the facing of adversity. Telling incidents were given and clear illustrations. After the sermon Dr. Miller sang in his persuasive manner, "You May Have All The World." Mrs. Miller will be present on Wednesday night, a severe cold detaining her in Harrisburg, and requiring medical treatment.

VOTE TODAY--GET RETURNS TONIGHT AT PROGRESS OFFICE

IDEAL WEATHER IS CERTAIN TO BRING OUT-RECORD VOTE

Everybody Happy Since
There Can't Be Alibis;
Candidates Make Final
Plea for Full Turnout.

TWO RADIO PLEAS

By GEORGE E. HOLMES
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, Nov. 4.—With fair weather reported in all parts of the country, American voters in numbers never before equalled are making their quadrennial march to the polls today.

Upon the verdict they render there depends the character of their national government for years, depends the local governments in 33 states, the complexion of congress—and perhaps may depend the course of world history.

At least 30,000,000 voters will have registered their preference before the polls close tonight. According to the estimates of all party managers, and they would not be surprised if the total reaches 35,000,000. Either figure will establish a new high record in popular suffrage, not only in the United States, but in the world.

The leaders of all parties found satisfaction in the fair weather reports from the country.

"The larger the vote the more decisive the victory," said William M. Butler, generalissimo of the Coolidge for co.

"Fair weather will bring out the great silent vote which can be depended upon to elect John W. Davis," said the Democratic managers.

And—"Fair weather will allow the farmer and the people in remote rural sections of the west to get to the polls, and that spells Progressive triumph," declared the La Follette independent leaders.

President Coolidge, John W. Davis and political lesser lights everywhere joined in a common appeal to the American citizen to vote.

"Vote anyway you please, but vote."

This was the burden of their plea. It was almost, but not quite, non-partisan.

In his closing message to the American electorate, conveyed by radio to millions of unseen listeners, President Coolidge made a veiled thrust at the La Follette independents by alluding to them as "an element of discontent, an element inspired with more zeal than knowledge."

Only a few moments before the President had listened to his chief rival, John W. Davis, speaking to this same invisible audience, appeal to "the moral sense of the American people, to rise up to the ballot boxes today and vote out of power an administration streaked with corruption."

"God defend the right," was the fervent and final plea that Davis left with the voters.

There were no last minute or eleventh hour revisions of the forecasts which all party managers have been making in such profusion for a week past.

Republican leaders said they saw no reason to change their prophecies of a majority in the electoral college for Coolidge running anywhere from 10 to 175 votes. The first figure represents their minimum expectations. The last constitutes all they possibly can expect, and would allow Davis nothing but the solid South that Cox carried, and allow La Follette virtually nothing.

Democratic leaders are more quietly conservative. It would be untrue to say that all of the Democratic managers are confident of victory, for some of them are not. With Coolidge sweeping the conservative east, and with La Follette setting the prairies afire in the west, some Democratic leaders privately confess the Davis hope is a forlorn one. But there are none of them who consider his cause hopeless, and many of them are sincerely confident that the public expectation of a Coolidge victory is

Coolidge, Confident Of Victory, Follows Usual Routine Of Day's Work

By GEORGE E. DURNO

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.
Washington, Nov. 4.—While millions of his fellow citizens were determining his political fate at the polls today, President Coolidge was unconcernedly going through the mechanics of a routine White House Tuesday.

To the President, the result of today's election is a foregone conclusion. He already has stated publicly that he expects to maintain the White House as his residence for an additional four years, and he has merely an academic interest in the size of the majority he expects to poll over John W. Davis and Robert M. La Follette.

As is usual on Tuesday's, immediately after breakfast the President went into conference with General Lord, chief of the Budget Bureau. The work of formulating the Federal budget recommendation to congress is now at its height and Mr. Coolidge spent over half an hour in consultation with his financial aide.

The budget conference was followed by the regular Tuesday cabinet meeting although with fully half of the cabinet out of the city to vote, the meeting was rather perfunctory.

Mr. Coolidge formally ended his campaign last night, when, over the radio, he urged every citizen to go to the polls "in the spirit that they would approach a sacrament" and vote "solely in the light of their own conscience."

He went further, however, in this final speech and lashed out for the last time at the "minorities" figuring in the campaign ending today.

"We shall always have with us an element of discontent, an element inspired with more zeal than knowledge," he told his radio audience. "They will always be active and energetic, and they seldom vote on election day."

"But the people at large in this country are not represented by them. They are greatly in the minority. But their number is large enough to be a decisive factor in many elections, unless it is offset by the sober second thought of the people who have something at stake, whether it be earnings from investment or from employment, who are considering not only their children and of coming generations."

"Our institutions never contemplated that the conduct of this country, the direction of its affairs, the adoption of its policies, the maintenance of its principles, should be decided by a minority moved in part by self interest and prejudice."

"Our country is always safe when discussions are made by a majority of those who are entitled to vote. It is always in peril when decisions are made by a minority."

"Our country is always safe when discussions are made by a majority of those who are entitled to vote. It is always in peril when decisions are made by a minority."

due for a surprising shock. The whole question, say the more astute Democratic leaders, simmers down to this:

"How strong is La Follette?"

This is the great enigma of today's election and whoever can supply the answer can predict the outcome of the balloting.

WHAT THE CANDIDATES ARE DOING

This is what the candidates are doing today:

President Coolidge—conducting business as usual and receiving returns tonight in the White House, he having voted by mail earlier in the week. The ballot went to Northampton, Mass.

John W. Davis—resting at home in Locust Valley, L. I. He voted this morning in the court house at Locust Valley.

Robert M. La Follette—spending the day at his home in Madison, Wis., and voting in the court house basement there.

Charles G. Dawes—smoking his pipe at Evanston, Ill., his home, where he will vote today.

Governor Charles W. Bryan—at his office in Lincoln, Neb., planning to vote across the street in the state senate chamber.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler—resting in Washington, his ballot in the mails for Butte, Mont., his home.

ELECTION RETURNS FROM THE NATION AT THE PROGRESS OFFICE TONIGHT

Yes, we are going to announce election returns tonight in the same manner as the baseball series was handled—hot right off the wire; so hot we will not even touch them but read them off simultaneously with the wonderful printer telegraph machine striking off the words.

This machine started in this morning at eight o'clock and just like Calvin Coolidge will work right straight through until the last election night bird has gone to roost. There will be plenty of interesting material ready to be ground out by seven o'clock this evening so come early and be prepared to stay late. We'll stay with you.

The weather man says it is going to be a nice evening, probably a little cold, but your overcoat will take care of that, so will the returns.

The returns will be so voluminous and so varied during the early hours of the evening that we will be unable to attend to any telephone calls. Do not use the telephone. Come over and join the crowd in front of the megaphone announcer.

WIDE VARIANCE IN POLLS' TIME DELAYS RESULT

A difference of five hours in the time for closing the polls in various States prevails in today's election and may serve to make the returns "spotty."

The earliest closing time is in Kentucky, 4 o'clock, and the last to close will be Minnesota at 9 p. m. Arkansas and Florida close at "sundown," and other States range from 5 p. m. to 8 p. m. with the majority at 6 p. m.

Commercialites Place Eight In Nomination For Director Election

The Clearfield Commercial Club held the regular semi-yearly meeting at the Jordan Hotel last evening. The meeting was called for the purpose of placing in nomination the directors for the coming six-month period which will start with the next meeting in this month.

Following the routine business of the club, Mr. J. P. O'Laughlin very clearly laid before the club the major points of the platforms of the three important parties. The exposition of these platforms was very clear and concise and Mr. O'Laughlin used the three nominees' own words clipping from speeches made during the campaign to outline the presidential aspirants' aims and policies.

Miss Ellen Fryer, with Mrs. Alice Bay at the piano, entertained the club with some very pleasing selections on the violin.

The members placed in nomination for directors for the coming election were Messrs Cortez Bell, W. Elbridge Brown, James Mitchell, Jr., A. M. Livright, R. I. Fulton, S. L. Warner, Reuben Nevling and H. F. Bigler.

Oscar Manion, Formerly Constable of Bigler Twp., Is Alleged To Have Sold Booze To Young Smeal

County Coroner, Dr. J. L. Pallum went up to Houtzdale yesterday and summoning a jury made an official investigation of the death of Owen Smeal, aged 36 years, of Irwina, who died in front of a doctor's office in Houtzdale Sunday, while seeking medical assistance as the result of the drinking of moonshine liquor, alleged to have been furnished the dead man by a resident of the little village of Atlantic, located midway between Houtzdale and Madera.

Sunday morning Owen Smeal, who has been a confirmed alcoholic for several years, in company with his nephew, Stacy Smeal, aged 25, and the man reported to the coroner as the man who died from drinking the poisoned liquor, drove to Atlantic in search of moonshine. They stopped at two places before Owen could get what he was after. The second stop was made at the residence of Oscar Mannion, former constable of Bigler township. The nephew testified that Owen Smeal accompanied Mannion to a small building and later came back to the car where he was waiting for him with a quart of moonshine which he claimed had been purchased from Mannion.

The autopsy performed by the coroner disclosed that Smeal's death was due to acute alcoholism. The man's stomach and internal organs were in very bad shape and had the moonshine drinkers of Clearfield county all had opportunity to look at the havoc wrought by man's long continued potations, the consumption of the fiery stuff would surely be very greatly reduced.

As a result of the testimony and the autopsy it was decided that no more serious charge could be lodged against Mannion than violation of the liquor law, and that was accordingly done. A warrant for Mannion's arrest and a search warrant for his premises were placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff H. E. Hummelbaugh and Constable Love, of Houtzdale, and they went to Atlantic after their man. A search of the premises was fruitless as the officers were unable to find either moonshine or the alleged moonshiner, as Mannion had disappeared. It is expected, however that he will be taken into custody today.

Owen Smeal was a hard-working, industrious young man up until a few years ago when his appetite for liquor got away with him and during the last couple of years he had been before the Clearfield county court several times for violating the liquor law, having been found in possession of illicit liquor on those occasions. He was completely pulverized by the poison liquor he had been drinking from time to time and the liquor he drank Sunday morning had no particular ill effect except that it might be considered the "last straw."

Mannion is a former constable of Bigler township, and has been mixed up in liquor law violation before, although he has thus far escaped paying the penalty for his alleged infractions. He was arrested over in Blair county for transporting liquor, but managed to get by because the search of his car was illegally made. He had since left Bigler township and took up his residence at Atlantic.

HOLDING FOUR IN CAMBRIA ROBBERY

Johnstown, Pa., Nov. 4. (INS.)—District Attorney D. P. Weimer today refused to outline the evidence against the four men being held in the county jail at Ebensburg on charges of murder in connection with the $53,000 payroll robbery of the Ebensburg Coal Company at Sand Creek.

One of the quartet was arrested shortly after the robbery, and the other three men were returned here last Saturday from Terre Haute, Ind., where they had been arrested on information supplied by Cambria county authorities. At the Ebensburg jail today, it was stated that all information on the prisoners would come from District Attorney Weimer.

Mrs. Ernest Edwards of La Junta, Colorado, and son Everett, of Chicago, and niece, Mrs. Gifford, of Cleveland, accompanied Dr. E. Gard Edwards' body here for burial.

CLEARFIELD COUNTY AGAIN CLOSED TO ALL HUNTING

Clearfield county has been closed for hunting until sufficient rain falls to dampen the leaves and woods and remove the fire hazard.

Governor Pinchot's proclamation, issued last Friday, stopping hunting throughout the State until Thursday, November 6th, was suspended in this county, when a half inch of rain fell during Friday evening. The forest areas are now as dry as they were when the Governor issued his proclamation to safeguard against forest fires. Secretary Seth E. Gordon, of the State Game Commission has notified State Game Protectors W. J. Davis, of Clearfield, W. J. Delansky, of Osceola and Clair W. Kelly, of DuBois, together with all the Forest Rangers and Game Keepers to order all hunters out of the woods in this entire Central Pennsylvania region which embraces Clearfield and all the adjoining counties.

Therefore Clearfield county hunters should bear in mind that the county is closed to all hunting and should govern themselves accordingly.

Governor Pinchot also proposes to issue another proclamation which will again suspend the hunting privilege in Pennsylvania until such time as enough rain falls as to make danger from forest fire out of the question.

True sportsmen and those interested in the conservation of our natural resources will accept the Governor's action with good grace and proper respect. It is absolutely necessary, else such action would not have been taken.

Alleged Auto Tool Thieves Placed In Jail To Await Court Trial

Don Merrifield and Charles White, the 17-year-old Mt. Joy youths, arrested by the local police for robbing parked automobiles of tools and other articles, were held by Squire John yesterday for court. Bail to the amount of $300 each was asked and when it was not forthcoming the young men were placed in jail.

White said he drove out Ogden avenue with a young man from that section after Merrifield had been arrested by Officer Woolridge Saturday evening and had thrown his sack of tools in the weeds along the road above town. When he visited the spot in company with the officers yesterday afternoon he found some person had beaten him to it and got away with the tools.

EXPECT TO ARREST BOMBER OF MAYOR KISTLER'S HOME

Niles, Ohio, Nov. 4. (INS.)—Arrests of those who dynamited the home of Mayor Harvey C. Kistler—the prelude of Saturday's rioting between Klan and anti-Klan forces here, which resulted in the proclamation of martial law, after 12 persons were wounded, was promised within a few hours by state secret service men, who have been quietly at work assembling evidence.

The identity of the bombers has been established, detectives said, and arrests awaited only the finding of one important witness which was believed to be a matter of hours.

A surprise was promised when the bombers were arrested. This is taken to mean that suspects are not identified with the anti-Klan faction but were persons who had their own reasons for the bombing of the mayor's home. Niles marched to the polls today to register their vote in national, state and county elections, under the watchful eye of the military authorities, although in no way was the process of voting interfered with. Governor Donahue had been hopeful that he could end martial law before the election, but General Hough, in command of state troops, told him that the military should remain in control for a day yet. The night passed without disorder.

Town With Red Headed Bats And White Crickets Does Its Voting Early

New Ashford, Mass., Nov. 4. (INS.)—New Ashford was first under the wire again today with its complete election returns. The polls opened at 6 a. m. Fifteen minutes later the vote was in. New Ashford gave 20 votes to Coolidge, four to Davis. Of the six remaining registered voters, two were ill and not voting, four were out of town.

The voters got to the polls and had it over with today with astonishing alacrity, considering that there are no trolley cars in this town. Among other things that it has not a real coal burning stove or more than two telephones.

I has one church—a Methodist Church—built with funds subscribed by public spirited citizens in the bar room of the town's ancient tavern. It was built in 1830.

The town also claims its bats are red headed and its crickets lily white. That story got circulation when the tavern still operated its bar.

ANOTHER FIRST

Kansas City, Nov. 4. (INS.)—Shortly after the polls opened here this morning, the election officials of the first precinct in the tenth ward announced its vote complete. The unofficial figures of the balloting, for president, as announced by precinct Judge, showed Coolidge 52; Davis, 12; La Follette, 1.

Woodland Driver and His Car Bang Into Second St. House After Smash

Another of those "lucky" automobile accidents, in which, while the machines engaged get pretty well banged up, the occupants of same escape injury, occurred at the corner of North Second and Reed streets about 4 o'clock Monday afternoon. Car owned and operated by Frank Conway of Woodland, and Thomas F. Duckett of Hillsdale, were in the wreck.

Conway, driving an Oldsmobile, was coming down Second street and attempted to turn into Reed street just as Duckett in his Chevrolet was about to turn into Second off Reed. The two cars met almost head on. A fender was tipped off the Chevy and while Conway's Oldsmobile ran up over the curb straddled and rode down a shade tree and barged into the side of the porch of the residence of Ed T. Bird.

The side of the porch was caved in for a considerable distance and the front end of Conway's car was also pretty badly banged up. Conway offered to settle for the damage to the tree and porch and then trundled his car off to the garage for repair.

Woman Who Leaped To Death At Harrisburg Is Identified As Pittsburgher

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 4. (INS.)—That the woman who leaped to her death from the fifth floor of a hotel here was from Pittsburgh, was practically established today by George H. Herbert, 354 Highland avenue, Pittsburgh, who arrived here today.

Herbert said he received a letter from the girl whom he knew as Marion Meyer, last Sunday night in which she said she was going to kill herself. Yesterday, Herbert learned of the suicide here and arrived today. According to Herbert she and Miss Meyer had been friends in Pittsburgh, but had quarreled on Saturday. He said he knew nothing of the girl's whereabouts until he received the letter.

It was further learned that the girl had lived on Hasting street in Pittsburgh, and that on Saturday she had sent a trunk from there to 5305 Broad street, East End, Pittsburgh. At the Hasting street address she was known as Miss Iuston, police said.

The finest weather ever provided for Clearfield voters in the memory of our oldest voters served to bring out a record-breaking vote in the early hours of the forenoon, but a tightening up or falling off became perceptible about the noon hour, with the result that what promised at the start-off to be a record-breaking vote, began to look at noon as though she might slip away below expectations, when the outlying wards showed what appeared to be a falling off over banner years of the recent past.

However, there appears to be great activity at every polling place and the army of workers engaged by the different party chieftains may swell the total to former unheard of figures, due to the interest in the presidential and congressional fights and the fine weather.

The total vote in the different precincts at 12:45 o'clock was as follows:

First Ward	202
Second Ward, 1st Pct.	227
Second Ward, 2d Pct.	88
Third Ward, 1st Pct.	91
Third Ward, 2d Pct.	160
Fourth Ward	76

Total

There were 50 votes cast in Hillsdale Precinct of Lawrence township at noon. At Plymptonville Precinct at 2 o'clock there were 116 Lawrence township votes cast and 12 from Plymptonville, the electors of both Lawrence and Plympton voting at the same election house. The vote at Ridge City precinct of Lawrence township at 2 o'clock totaled 80, or 240 for the three districts.

VIOLENCE AT CHICAGO

Chicago, Nov. 4. (INS.)—One man was shot and one polling place was burned today as Chicago went to the polls to cast what promised to be one of the largest votes in its history.

Six men in a speeding automobile shot at Antoni Rodzinski, as he was leaving a crowded polling place. His condition is said to be serious. The motive for the attack has not been determined.

The fire of the booth is said to have been caused by an overheated furnace. It destroyed ballots, ballot boxes and booths.

MRS. HARDING SOMEWHAT BETTER

Marion, Ohio, Nov. 4. (INS.)—The condition of Mrs. Warren G. Harding, widow of President Harding, was somewhat better today.

"She had a fairly good night," Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, her physician said. "She was restless up until about one a. m., then went to sleep and had anywhere from three to five hours sleep."

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 4. (INS.)—James C. Crouthamel, and Paul J. Boel, members of Troop E, State Police, were probably fatally injured when their motorcycle collided with a street car here today. The men were thrown against a steel pole, and suffered broken arms and legs and internal injuries.

Mr. J. A. Shull has returned from Daerport, Iowa, where he spent some time visiting his son Lester.

October, 1924, will go down into history as the most arid month of the year and the driest October in fifty years. At no time since measurements of rainfall began in 1874 has there been such a slight rainfall in the present month. There was rainfall on better days. On Oct. 8, there was a shower, and the measuring instrument showed nothing but a trace. On the night of Oct. 27, there was a shower, lower the measurements showed .01 of an inch. There was a shower last night. Inasmuch as measurements of rainfall are measured from noon until noon, the shower of last night will be counted for November.

However, if actually measured it would add but little to the total, for while it drizzled for some time, spell and dampened the air, and ardor of Hallowe'en, it did not make very much difference on the measuring instrument with last year, and, as was previously to that, there was a great difference as to make it a great marvel. October, 1923, had .01 inch; October, 1922, had .1 inch; and October, 1921, had .94 inches. It is altogether probable that October, 1924, was not only the driest month of the year, but from the records is decreed the driest of any year since 1872.

the work being done in Africa while Sister Laura Gilliland is working the morning hour Rev. Fred McKendrick, who has spent nineteen years in Africa and who has just recently returned from a ten year stay there, brought us the message. He spoke of the Child Life in Africa and vividly portrayed the need of Christian training and child nurture. He spoke the cruelty of the witch doctors who called to see a child that had not been properly fed, and whose parents believe that some evil spirit had entered the child. He urged all speed possible in building the nursery where we would care for children, who in turn

PAY IT A VISIT

The recently completed State Hospital at Philipsburg, which replaces the old frame structure opened on February 23, 1891, as the Cottage State Hospital for the Eighth District of Pennsylvania, was opened for public inspection on Friday last. And during Friday, Saturday and Sunday last was visited by thousands of the people of this section and the area making up the Eighth District, which extends from Snow Shoe, in Centre County, on the north, to Janesville, in Clearfield County on the south, a territory of 400 square miles and containing a population of 55,000 persons. Each and every one of those thousands of visitors were simply carried away by what they saw, and all were a unit in declaring the new Philipsburg Hospital to be the very finest institution of its kind to be found anywhere.

It is just that and while there may be larger hospitals in the country there are none finer, more substantial or more complete, in every way than Philipsburg now boasts. We take the following complete description and picture of the new institution from the "Philipsburg Ledger's" "Hospital Supplement" of Friday last:

Description of New Hospital
The hospital is built of brick, stone, steel and concrete and is of absolute fire-proof construction. Being designed thus for both safety and cleanliness. Everything about it is ultra-modern and leaves nothing to be desired, and the institution will long stand as a monument to the progress, public-spirited citizens of Philipsburg and vicinity who got the vision of what was needed, and by constant application to and insistence upon the powers that be in the State, were privileged to see their plans developed into such an institution as is now theirs. The detailed description of this wonderful hospital follows:

Ground, or First Floor Has Many Features
At the south wing of the building is the admission entrance for ambulance cases, this entrance being on the ground or first floor. To the right, inside the entrance, is the receiving room for accident cases where they may be prepared for surgical attention. Adjoining is a room for the treatment of dispensary patients, and a waiting room for patients.

In this section, all T. B. and G. U. cases will be given attention. All of the laboratory accessories in this department are of solid porcelain. Located in this section is the reconstruction room, in which the work of restoring bones and muscles to their normal conditions will be promoted. The equipment here includes all of the paraphernalia generally used in this important line of hospital work.

The ground or first floor is divided by a corridor, as are all other floors, the corridor running north and south through the building. On the right of the corridor is the laboratory and pharmacy suite, consisting of four rooms. Across the corridor is the X-ray suite which includes a waiting room, plate room, utility room, office, X-ray room and lavatory. Adjoining this is the fluoroscope suite, for X-ray treatments which includes a deep therapy machine room which is plastered with a mixture which contains barium instead of lead, making the walls impervious to penetration of light cast out by the machine. Power which will enter this room at 2200 volts can be stepped up to 250,000 volts by the use of equipment installed for that purpose. Beyond this point are lavatories and toilets for men, a room for the storage of the clothing of the ward patients, the clothing being placed in sterilized bags, and checked.

On this floor is the nurses and staff dining room, with plenty of light and space. Adjoining is the kitchen, which is equipped with all modern conveniences, including an electric range, electric dish-washer, electric vegetable parer, a steam kettle with a capacity of twenty-five gallons, a steam vegetable cooker, steam coffee urns, fruit Marie, warming tables, vegetable sink, and all other equipment which is needed in a complete, modern kitchen.

Access the corridor is the kitchen help dining room, toilet and lavatory, a cooling room for supplies, with a special compartment for milk, butter, eggs and all other perishable food-stuffs. Then there is the kitchen store room, at a convenient point, together with a general store room into which all stores and supplies will be first received and checked by a receiving clerk who shall have an office wherein the records for this department shall be taken care of. The clerk in charge of this receiving station will be held responsible for the reception and distribution of all materials used in the operation of the hospital. A corridor 50 feet long by 8 feet wide serves to connect the laundry with the main modern laundry essentials here, is a room set apart for use in mending and repairing material in need of this service.

The ground or first floor also contains three utility rooms, for the storage of drugs and other material, and a machine room in which is housed the machinery which controls automatic elevator service running from the kitchen.

Administration Work on Second Floor
The second floor is called the Administration floor. Upon entering the main door on this floor, the information department is at the right, being equipped with a Bell Telephone switchboard, each private room being connected with the Bell system. Each floor is equipped with the Huntington & Clearfield Telephone system, so that the institution will have adequate means of communication with the outside world.

It might be well to state here, that there are no bells to be rung nor buzzers to sound in the event a patient wishes the nurse to enter the room. The nurses call system consists of a light placed at the door of each room, the light being turned on by the patient pressing a button on the wall of the room, and it cannot be turned off until the nurse enters the room to answer the call. The lights are placed so that they can be observed by the nurse from her station on each floor, the stations being placed at convenient places. The nurse's station is also equipped with a telephone. The main corridor is laid with linoleum covered with Battleshield linoleum, cemented to the floor, and is sound-proof.

On this floor, there is the General office, superintendent's office, staff locker room, eye ward, nurse's stations, utility sinks, medicine closets, two large wards for men's medical cases, a quiet room, into which it will be possible to remove any patient who may be making noise which disturbs other patients, or into which a patient can be moved in order to provide quiet for that patient. On each floor, there is a built-in linen closet, large enough to take care of the linen needs of each floor.

Also, each floor is provided with a spacious sun parlor on the south side of each wing. The second floor provides an interne's suite of four rooms, with shower and lavatories, a staff locker room, surgical dressing room, the paraphernalia generally used in this important line of hospital work.

The surgical ward is on this floor, being at the end of the building opposite to the medical wards. The accident ward is about 24x56 feet, and receives light from 11 double windows, and is close by the sun porch at the north end of the building. In the eye ward the water service is controlled in such a manner as to keep both hands of the nurse or physician free to handle the patient, the water supply being controlled by the feet, and the drainage being controlled by the knee.

This is just one of the very many ideas which have been incorporated in the institution for the purpose of enlarging on its efficiency.

Women's And Children's Ward On Third Floor

The third floor houses the women's and children's wards, and the maternity suite, the latter being located at the north wing. The maternity ward comprises every detail necessary for a department of this character, both as to its completeness and in the matter of the arrangement of the various rooms.

The finest types of equipment for the sanitary care of both mother and babe have been installed. This department is prepared to give the highest class of service possible in modern obstetrics.

The sterilizers are all operated by high pressure steam; the sterilizing vats can be opened by a foot-valve, and they close by vacuum making it unnecessary for the attendant to use the hands for this purpose. This feature is very important.

The children's ward which is located in the west wing is ideal for this purpose, as it is roomy, with a play-room in connection, and is light and airy, thereby creating a surrounding which should go a long way in keeping the little patients in a cheerful frame of mind.

The children's ward will include in its equipment everything necessary for use in the work of restoration of crippled children to a wholesome condition of health and physical activity. This feature will be of untold value to the community at large as the work of restoration has been developed to such an extent that many cases, which years ago were considered hopeless, may now be taken care of, and instead of having numerous crippled children growing up to become more or less of a burden upon their relatives, themselves, and sometimes the community, due to disfigurement of the bones or joints, they will now have a chance to be restored to full usefulness of their body and become assets for the general good of the country, able to enjoy life as it should be enjoyed by every normal person.

It is most gratifying to note that the Philipsburg Rotary Club are sponsors for the furnishing and equipping of this ward for the children.

There are four wards for women on this floor, with a quiet room on each wing, wherein patients may be isolated when it is to the interest of all patients to have this done.

On this floor also, are floor service rooms, linen rooms, a clothes chute running down to the basement, clothes closets, blanket warmer, utility rooms, nurses retiring room, with bath, and toilets at convenient points in various parts of the floor space.

This floor is also equipped with an isolation suite for the purpose of caring for contagious diseases, this suite being supplied with a room for the patient, a room for the nurse, lavatory and toilet, bath, and closet, the arrangement being such that this section can be cut off from the remainder of the floor, with ingress and egress for the nurse being provided by way of the firetower which leads to the ground directly to the outside.

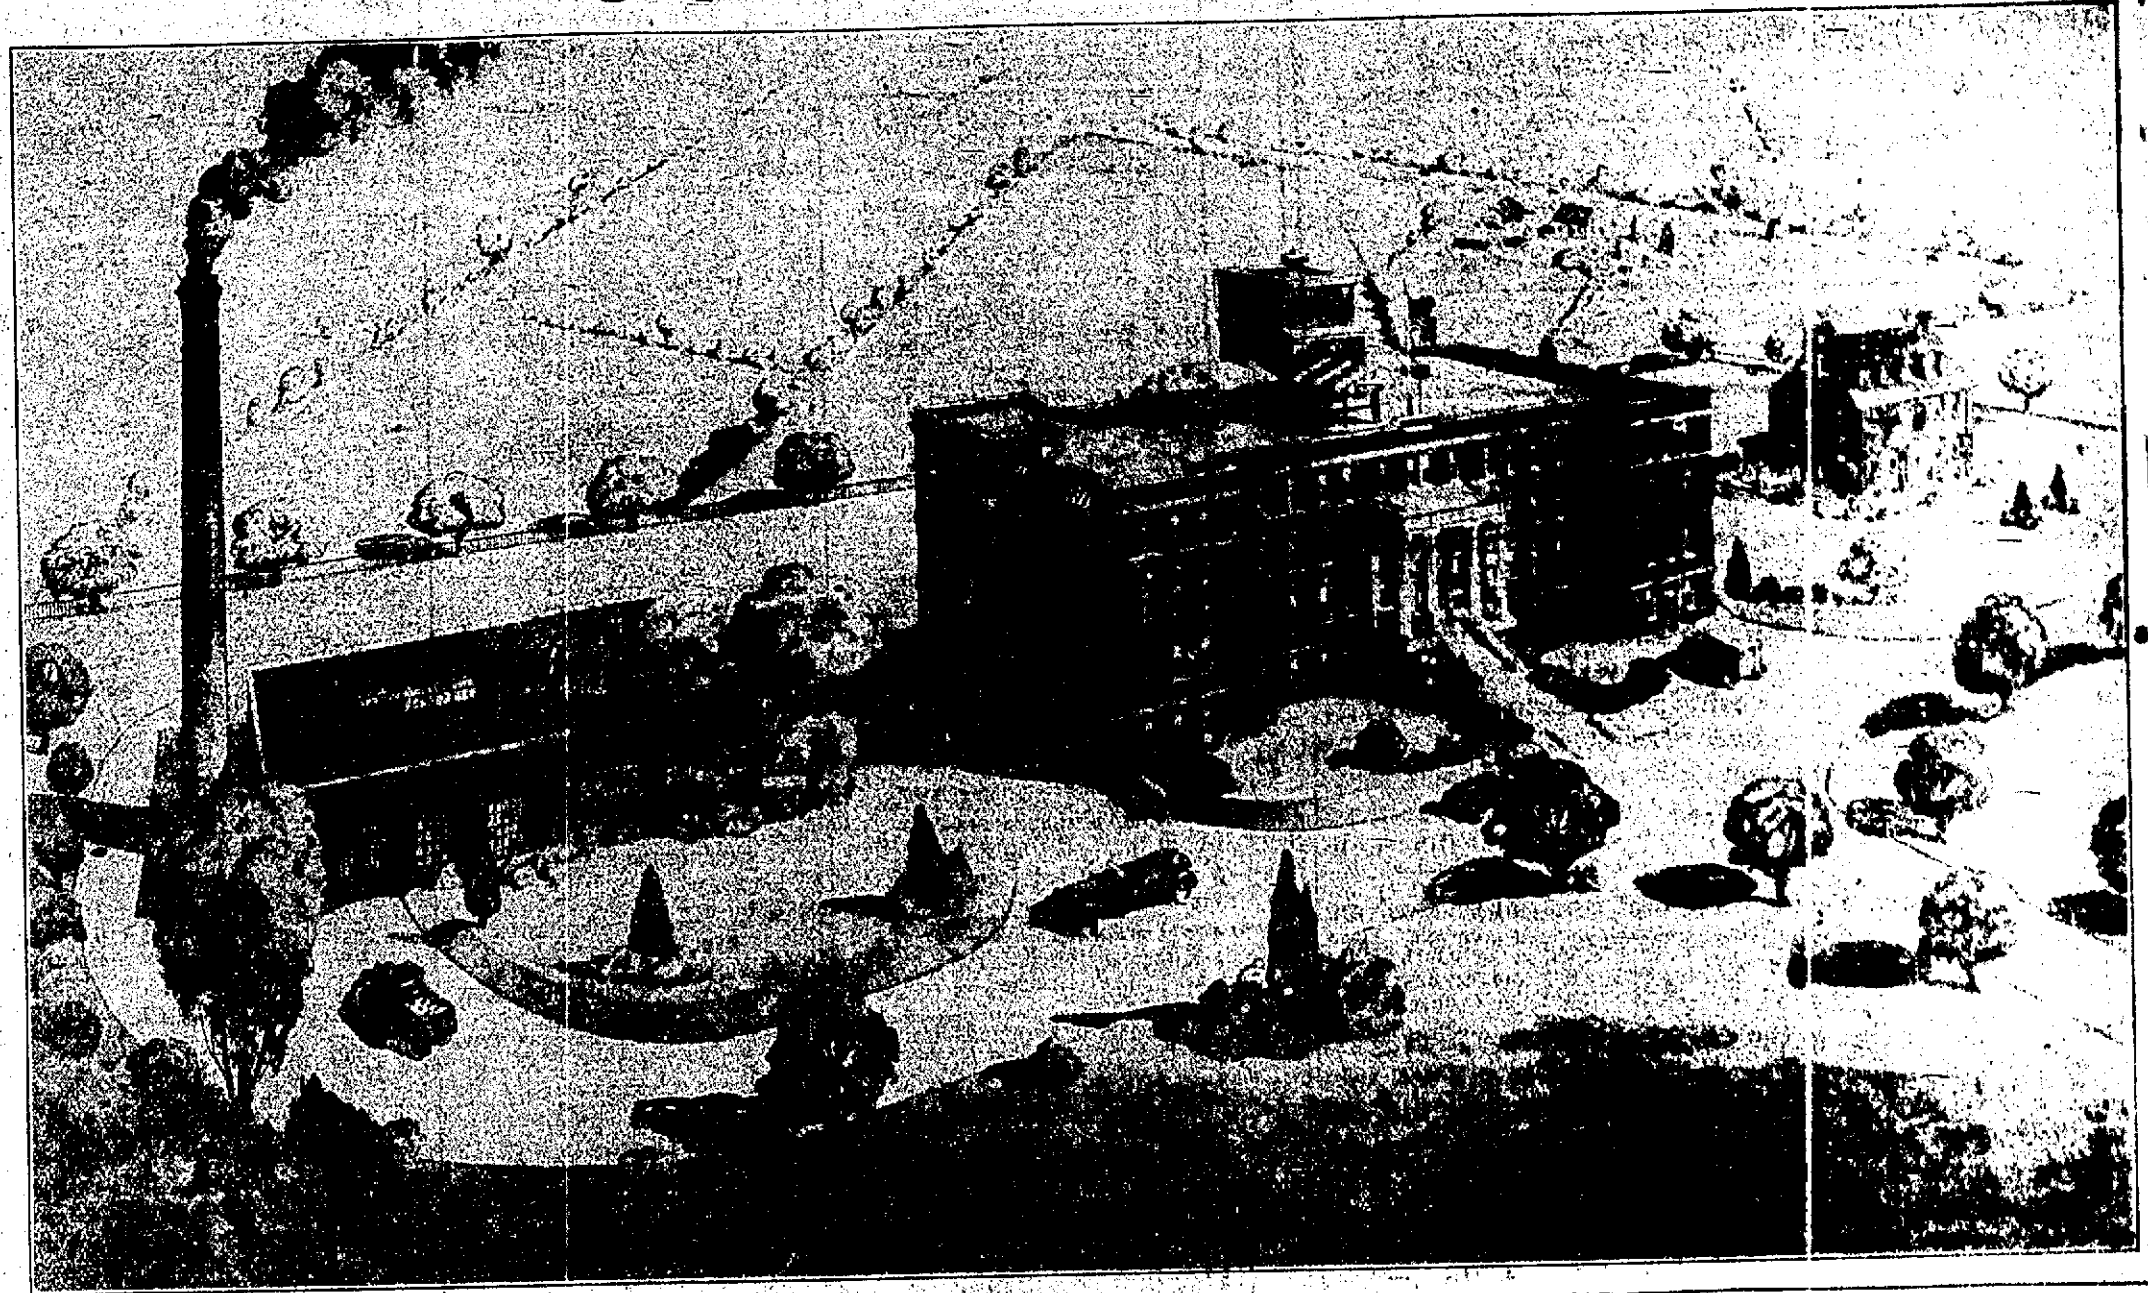

Fourth Floor Has All Private Rooms And Operating Suite
The fourth floor consists of all private rooms, and provides for the accommodation of twenty private patients, while the section located in the west wing is arranged in such a manner that it can be converted into a private suite for the purpose of providing accommodations for friends or relatives of a patient when there is a desire on their part to remain in the hospital during a critical period of illness of a patient in whom they may be directly interested. This feature will prove a blessing to many persons who would without this accommodation, be compelled to remain away from a loved one, resulting in a separation which probably would be painful to the interest of the patient, and in addition would cause a serious disturbance of mind on the part of the person excluded. This suite would consist of a patient's room, a bedroom, living room, and bath and lavatory.

Elevator System Is Automatic From Basement To Roof
The elevator shaft is constructed with an entrance from the roof, thereby avoiding the necessity of climbing up stairways in order to reach the roof.

The elevator system is operated by a series of push buttons, and works automatically, and should a person enter an elevator, press the button for the direction in which they want to travel the elevator will not move. If the person has left the door open, the elevator shaft are safe on each floor.

In constructing the doorway of each room, care has been taken to have the opening four feet in width, in order to allow for the removal of both bed and patient, when necessary.

Photograph Of New Cottage State Hospital

On this floor there are two floor toilets, two utility rooms, one linen room, and nurses stations.

The operating suite is also on this floor, and in this department, as in all other departments of this wonderful institution, the very latest devices and modern equipment has been installed.

There are two operating rooms, one for major operations and one for minor operations, and everything in the way of modern and up-to-date arrangement of an operation suite has been brought into play here. The sterilization room is a revelation to the uninitiated, and deserves more than a moment of a visitor's time.

Before being carried to the sterilizer the water is filtered, to insure sanitation of water supply. The sterilizing tank used for surgical instruments can be opened by the pressure of a lever, using the foot for this purpose, and when the compacted instruments are placed in the sterilizer, or taken out as the case may be, the door of the tank will close automatically. This permits of the free use of both hands upon the part of the surgeon or nurse.

In the major operating room, the artificial light in use is the very best obtainable, and is of the most ingenious mechanical construction. The construction of this lamp is of such a character, that by inserting a 100 watt electric globe into the socket, the light which is reflected back to the operating table is the equivalent of 1750 watts. The position and angle of the lamp can be manipulated by suspension cords which are attached to the ceiling.

A smaller lamp, capable of focusing the light into a smaller area is also a part of the lighting equipment. The suite is provided with a blanket warmer, anesthetizing room, a surgeon's clean-up room. The floor consists of rubber tile and does not reproduce any sound.

Running up from this floor is a stairway leading out to the roof, which is constructed of tile, and when the weather is permissible, the roof can be used by convalescents. A wonderful view of the countryside to the west and north is to be obtained from this point.

The lighting system throughout the building is of the indirect type, there is no glare, nor any gloom; the lighting being arranged to eliminate unequal distribution.

Heating Plant, Laundry, Garage
The central heating plant consists of two, low pressure Oil City boilers whose capacity is sufficient to provide adequate heat for the entire institution.

Placed beside the boilers of the heating plant there is one high pressure Oil City boiler which will supply the hot water for sterilization purposes, cooking, and hot water for general use.

On the north side of the boiler room is the coal bin, and above the bin is the transformer room in which is located transformers with a capacity of eighty-seven and one-half horse power by which the power is stepped down from the high tension line to a point suitable for domestic use. The boiler room is equipped with a lavatory for the convenience of the workmen.

The smoke-stack in connection with the boiler room is built of tile ninety feet high, eight feet in diameter at the bottom and four and one-half feet in diameter at the top.

At the rear of the boiler room is the garage with a capacity of four cars, the garage being equipped with heating facilities, plenty of light, a good concrete floor built to make drainage necessary for the washing of cars.

There is a concrete walk four feet wide which covers the entire distance from the garage to the nurses' home, a distance of four hundred feet.

Leading from this walk are concrete approaches which reach the steps at all entrances at the rear of the hospital.

Adjoining the boiler room is the laundry which is equipped with all modern machinery and devices necessary in the operation of an up-to-the-minute laundry.

The Real "Go Getter"
Much credit for this institution must be given to the able business and professional men who make up the Board of Trustees, the Medical and Surgical Staff, but these gentle men themselves, and every person familiar with the long continued fight to realize their ambitions doff their hats to Hon. H. B. Scott as the real "go getter" of the lot. Identified with the institution as a member of the Board for many years, no man gave more of his time and energy in its behalf. He had the privilege of introducing the bill in the Legislature appropriating the first $50,000 for the erection of the new building he has devoted almost every waking moment since that time to furthering this work. It is the only State institution built without having a contract let for the job, but Mr. Scott and his fellow trustees believed they could build a better building at less cost and get just what they wanted the other way and Governor Sproul consented to this being done upon the personal guarantee in writing of Mr. Scott that he would devote his time to supervising not only the purchase of all the materials but the building, equipping and furnishing of the hospital. He was backed up in his every decision and move by the other trustees and this magnificent institution is the result.

The first $50,000 appropriation was made in 1921. It was but the start. The corner stone was laid in October, 1922, but Governor Pinchot, with his peculiar ideas of economy in appropriation, where his friends are not in the vanguard of the project or proposition, vetoed the appropriation to ward the building by the Legislature of 1923, but that only caused Mr. Scott and the men behind him to fight all the harder. May they live long to enjoy their success in the service of humanity.

A POWERFUL ORGANIZATION

The State Game, Fish & Forestry Association is one of the most powerful organizations of sportsmen in Penna.

It covers the greater part of Clearfield and Centre Counties. The membership is already over 800. Its object is to conserve our forests and streams and the protection of the wild life therein. It is already accomplishing many good things. The owner end of Clearfield County has had more trout planted this year than in any other 10 years added together. Every trout came through the State Game, Fish and Forestry Association.

The organization needs your help. Come to the meeting of sportsmen in the Court House Monday evening, Nov. 10th, at 8 p. m.

Hear what is being done for the sportsmen in this part of the state.

APPRECIATED SERVICE

The song service rendered by the choir in the Presbyterian church Sunday evening, was certainly beautiful and soul inspiring. I wonder if we, as a congregation, appreciate it as it should—it is well worth while to have an evening now and then given over to them, and we should be just proud of them, especially the "Te Deum" and "I know I voice the whole congregation in giving them this little bit of praise. Let us give them the flowers while they are giving us the best.

ONE-PIECE BUILDINGS

Houses and more pretentious buildings hereafter may be comparable to union suits. The one-piece building has arrived.

It started with the "poured" structure of concrete, devised by Edison and described by the fancy Greek word "monolith", which signifies "one-stone". That type of structure has not yet made such headway as the inventor expected, but it is gaining, and is sure to become more popular as lumber becomes scarce and expensive and architects work out more attractive forms of concrete homes.

Now it is the one-piece structure of steel, or of steel and concrete, with the steel parts all welded together and the skeleton surrounded and filled with concrete in the usual way.

Engineers belonging to the American Welding Society say that welding is the coming thing in architecture, and will take the place of riveting. The din of the pneumatic riveter will give way to the roar of the gas torch or the flare of the electric welder. When a job is finished, the skeleton will be literally one great piece of steel, as if shaped on the forge of some superhuman blacksmith. There are said to be big advantages in this process, in time and cost of construction and in the strength of the structure itself.

Now let the engineers provide a fancy word for that. The obvious companion-word of "monolith", which according to the Greek dictionary would be "monochalyb", somehow seems a bit lacking in euphonic appeal.

TEACHING "COMES BACK"

During the war, and afterward, the profession of teaching sank into disrepute. Teachers' salaries did not rise along with those of various other occupations, and suffered especially in comparison with mechanical trades. Unskilled workmen came to make more money, in great numbers of cases, than skilled teachers who had started with naturally fine brains and made a life work of instructing youth. Skilled workmen earned princely incomes in comparison. Worse still, if possible, the esteem in which teachers were held sank low. A severely "practical" society came to scorn their calling. Their self-respect suffered.

Accordingly, many were driven from the profession, in order to make a decent living otherwise, with brain or hands. Few young people starting in life had the courage to plan for a teaching career. It began to look as if the schools must starve for instruction, or get along with second and third-rate instructors.

That discouraging outlook has changed already. A striking indication of the new trend is seen in a prominent college, where more students give teaching as their chosen vocation than anything else. The prospective teachers are 36 per cent of all those registering a preference.

Any community will give evidence of the fact that teachers have regained, or are now regaining, the respect and rewards they deserve. Pay has been raised almost everywhere to a level which will enable the teachers to live more nearly on a scale suiting their importance in the community and the demands of their very exacting work. Two influences work together. They get more pay because they are more respected, and they are more respected because they get more pay. So teaching grows popular again, fortunately for society.

ISN'T THIS YOUR PROBLEM?

"I intend to save money every month but somehow it just melts away and at the end of the month there's nothing left to save."

Why not reverse things and take out a fixed sum on pay day and put it to work in an interest bearing account at this bank? Live on the rest of your salary and you'll experience the self respect and pleasure of getting ahead.

In other words, pay yourself first. It makes a world of difference in one's prosperity account.

Better Than Kerosene.
Alcohol is the best thing to use in cleaning the sewing machine. If applied with absorbent cotton held in a small pair of forceps the fingers can be kept clean, and the oil and dust will be found to disappear very quickly. Alcohol does not leave its traces on the material you are sewing on, as kerosene is very apt to do.

Gold Hunger Supreme
Gold prospecting is very keen throughout Rhodesia and one night eight prospectors slept in the freezing cold on the site of a dead miner's forgotten gold claim in order to be the first to erect the customary discovery

In the Courts

Judge Chase handed down a decision in the case of Nicholas Garbrunsky and Anne Dewey who appeared to court from the fine imposed in a summary conviction in the court of Squire Chas. Roach, of Houtzdale. The men were tried on a charge of trespassing and adjudged guilty, being fined a total of $21.66. The evidence showed that while the men had trespassed, there were circumstances which favored them and while the court set aside the fine he thought the defendants should pay the costs, which amounted to $15.30, and directed that the Squire refund the difference.

Fred Somaski entered a plea of guilty to possessing liquor illegally and was sentenced to pay $100 fine and costs.

Judge Chase today appointed Alex Boyle as Judge of Election in the Fourth Ward to succeed Mrs. Fannie Dougherty resigned.

A hearing was had before Judge Chase in the case where City Comptroller Osburn and Supt. of Finance and Accounts Vosburg, to seek for payment a bill of $420.17 for repairs to the newly erected DuBois reservoir. The work was ordered done by Fair but as it had not been done through the proper channels the finance officers refused to order it paid. Although admit the necessity for the work, he court will decide the matter after looking into the law in the case.

was well assisted by Hall and Vogel of his own town. After the game Mr. Turner congratulated Capt. Wilson on the fine showing of his team.

Considerable trouble is being had with the "ball giving" after the game. Never before has it been customary for Clearfield to present the victor with a ball. But Johnstown and Lock Haven, being newcomers to it, expected a ball, but the coin went tails.

Saturday's Score
Altoona High got an unexpected mauling Saturday at the hands of Harrisburg Tech 60-0. The keynote to this can be seen in this, Wicker, Ajernathy, Cust and Hess were carried from the field, before the game had been under way long.

Johnstown's big squad put Lancaster in the hole in a 27-14 affair. Not so bad when you consider it was 17-0 here and Lancaster is considered a strong team.

Windber's 7-3 win over Altoona was no fluke as can be seen by their work Saturday, when they held West-Whore Tech of Pittsburg to a scoreless tie.

DuBois High's failure to make the point after score resulted in a Kane win Saturday 7-6. Kane was outplayed in everything except fumbling and DuBois did all that. The game was refereed by Stan Keck, a former All American while at Princeton.

Curwensville seems to have struck their gait Saturday by winning 26 to 6 from Cooper Township. It was a great game tho from first to last whistle.

The Western Penna. Championship looks like "anybody's ball" at present. New Castle had been looking like positive winners only to have Jeannette lick them. Then after Jeannette held it long enough to get swell headed up steps Norwin High and they tip Jeannette 19-12. But, believe it or not, Lock Haven High, altho not getting much notoriety now will not be a second or third when the race ends.

Y. M. C. A. JUNIORS ENJOY
HALLOWEEN SOCIAL

The Junior Members thoroughly enjoyed their Halloween Social in the Community Room at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday night, with two solid hours of fun and frolic. As usual the boys arrived in mummies costume and were 'dumb' until the prizes for costumes were awarded. Then they let loose with a bedlam of noise, each with a souvenir noise maker joining in with the grand parade, after which games were in order until the close, with refreshments at hand during the entire evening.

Five of the boys were so well disguised that they were not recognized by the other mummies: Chas. Murray a Mexican, Roy Dunlap an Harlequin, Walter Derrick a bandit, Mirle Davis a clown, and Leon Patchel a hobo. All the above boys received a Y. M. C. A. pin as prize; similar awards were given to the following as costume prizes: Most comical, John Harder; best imitation of a girl, Frank Ellis; honorable mention, Chester Kinkead; unique costume, Robert Thorn, Mexican Troubadour; Fancy costume, Ebert Melvain, dude, and Stewart Tate, Honorable mention Robert Thorn and Stewart Tate excelled in the pie eating contest, Oscar Shaffner and Max Hall in the apple eating on a string contest.

Announcement was made to the Junior members of a special award to be given to each boy bringing in a new member before January 1st, one good story book for each new member introduced, with a grand prize for the boy bringing in the greatest number by the close of the year. All boys of the ages 12-14 are invited to enroll in two boys clubs to be organized this week under the leadership of Messrs Victor Frendberg and Frank Deam. These are community boys clubs which meet weekly at the Y. M. C. A. open to all interested boys in Clearfield, whether they are members or not, who wish to enjoy the four-fold, mental, social, physical and religious program of these boys clubs.

Constipation makes bright children dull—
give them relief with Kellogg's Bran

Constipation dulls the youthful mind—makes children backward in their studies—makes them listless—and can lead to serious diseases. Constipation is a dangerous disease.

You cannot afford to take chances in getting relief. You cannot afford to experiment or put off. Kellogg's Bran brings relief—permanent relief if eaten regularly. Even in the most chronic cases of constipation it is guaranteed to bring results. If it fails, your grocer will return your money.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krambled, has brought relief to thousands because it is ALL bran. Remember, only ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. That is why Kellogg's Bran is recommended by doctors. It sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine. It causes regular, healthy, normal action. For it works as nature works. It is ALL bran.

Have your children eat it regularly—two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Eat it with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in the wonderful recipes on every package.

The flavor is delicious—a crisp, nut-like flavor that delights the taste. Different by far from ordinary bran, which are unpalatable.

Begin serving Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krambled, to your children to day. Eat it yourself. The leading hotels and clubs serve it. Made in Battle Creek. It is sold by all grocers.

INTER-CHURCH BOWLING
LEAGUE GOING STRONG

The second of the series of contests in the Inter-Church Bowling League was held Monday night on the Community Y. M. C. A. Alleys between the leading teams of last season's series. The Presbyterians got under in the first game strong with a margin of 37 pins at the end. But in the second match 'Cy' Williams got his team rolling working down the center of the alley for his usual number of strikes, and led his crowd to victory for the East End Methodists. Their enthusiasm lasted throughout the third contest and they took over the second game after a hard battle.

'Cy' belongs the honors of the first 500 score and high three for the series so far. The League was glad to welcome some of the old timers, Flo-bert White and Roy Fulton, and they proved they had not lost their knack of keeping them out of the gutters.

Thursday night will see the West Side Methodists and St. John's Lutheran bowlers for three games. Captains of the teams will be elected by popular vote of those turning out for the first game Thursday night.

Monday night's scores:

J. W. Williams	134	183	183	500
B. Shugarts	129	141	120	390

Stewart Drug Co. Has the Remedy and Guarantees It to End Indigestion or Gastritis. So Why Be Miserable?
You can get one bottle of Dare's Mentha Pepsin and if after you take it you do not say it did your stomach more good than anything you ever used before, your money will be waiting for you.

This delightful and effective elixir not only gives instant relief from gas, fullness, acid, stomach and distress after eating, but taken regularly for a short time will turn your weak, run down stomach into a strong, healthy one able to perform its duties without help.

It ends indigestion, gastritis, catarrh of the stomach and does it in a surprisingly short period of time.

Dr. Wm. W. Morgan, a prominent dentist of Bridgeton, N. J., writes: "After suffering severely with gastritis and other stomach troubles, a friend gave me a little Dare's Mentha Pepsin. I had obtained little relief from other remedies, but four bottles entirely ended the trouble." Get it at Stewart's Drug store and all regular druggists everywhere.

Not since the Progress Lost and Found column has set up such a reputation for bringing missing articles back to their owners.

Ask anyone who has ever lost anything and recovered it what the best plan of action is—and you'll learn that the only thing to do is to call H. & C. 176-J or Bell 47-J, and tell your trouble to an ad-taker!

Thoughts Of A Quiet Talking Machine—
"I used to believe that old saying about 'Music Hath Charms'—but not any more. Nobody has played me for six months."

"The only attention I get is when somebody dusts me off. You might think I was some sort of a table—they way they treat me—instead of a real artist."

"Why, I've held the stage with Caruso in 'Il Trovatore,' marched down the street with John Philip Sousa, and helped Al Johnson put over his coon songs! And now my owner's put a lace cover and a cheap vase on me and never asks me to do a thing."

"This IS a coincidence! She's opening me up now—going to play me for some caller. She's apologizing for not having any new records—I should think she would. I'm ashamed to sing some of this old ragtime."

"Say—that isn't a caller at all! Not by a long shot—that lady's going to buy me—I've been advertised in the Merchandise column of the Progress—

"I might have known that!"

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Sunday in the Presbyterian church was one which will be long remembered by many. The morning service brought a message from the Book of Books, on the theme, "What is that in Thine Hand?" At this critical time in the nation's history, it is vital that every one eligible should vote. It is necessary, it is their Christian duty, and privilege.

The Sabbath School and the Bible Classes were all well attended, and showed the true spirit of Christian fellowship.

The evening service was the crowning service of the day. It was a service of music, the very finest that could be given, those who heard could only realize a little more deeply the great power of song in proclaiming the glad tidings to all. We will all be looking forward to the next musical night which will close the second series of sermons, the first one next Sabbath evening.

Meetings for the week: Tuesday evening the monthly meeting of the King's Daughters at the home of Mrs. C. W. Howard. Annual thank offering meeting.

The Reedsville Ladies' Aid will meet in the Chapel, Tuesday evening for quilting and sewing.

Wednesday evening the mid-week prayer and praise service invites you.

Thursday evening the prayer service at the Reedsville Chapel. This night will be Church night. We especially invite all the members of the main church to join us in our service this night. A special musical program has been prepared we know it will be well worth while. Come, we want you.

A series of sermons illustrated by objects will be started next Sabbath evening and continuing for the next two weeks. Next Sabbath, November 9, the subject will be Habit.

Saturday, November 22, the Westminster Guild will hold their annual Christmas Bazaar. It will be called a Day of the Week Bazaar.

Thursday, November 13, will be another big day in the church. A Missionary Rally of all the Presbyterian churches in this district, meeting in our church.

Eible School brought out a fine attendance, running 455, with an offering of $33.40 for World Service. The Home Missions study, centering in the problems and opportunities of immigration, was pertinently presented by W. Elbridge Brown. This was a crowded and inspiring session of the School.

The special selections of the chorus were exceptionally interpreted, both morning and evening, the night anthem suited finely the evangelistic service. The exposition of 1 Timothy 1:12-18 emphasized "Experienced Redemption." This scripture brought pungent words, and offers of mercy and long suffering by God which sinners, even the "chief" like Paul, can experience.

Dr. D. N. Miller Preaches and Sings.

Dr. Miller was present according to announcement at night, preaching from Psalm 108:27-28 on the theme, "To you make God a last resort?" which was variously studied in the reception of mercies, enjoyment of prosperity, in the breaking of health, the suffering from affliction, and the facing of adversity. Telling incidents were given and clear illustrations. After the sermon Dr. Miller sang in his persuasive manner, "You May Have All The World." Mrs. Miller will be present on Wednesday night, a severe cold detaining her in Harrisburg, and requiring medical treatment.
